AMERICAN TOPICS.

AMERICAN SECURITIES.

SATTERTHWAITE'S circular, dated the evening of the 27th of September, says:

"The amount of business done in American Securities lately has been of a magnitude unprecedented since the outbreak of the rebellion."

The conciliatory nature of President JOHNSON'S speech to the delegates from the Southern States, appears to have inspired general confidence in the speedy, cordial reunion of the North and South, and all American securities currently dealt in in London have been in great demand.

Five-Twenties have been largely taken up at a rise of quite two per cent., closing at 70@70¼. At one time they touched 70¾.

Both Illinois and Eries have been in request, the former at an advance of four dollars, and the latter at rather more than two dollars, which is a reaction from the highest price, as they were bought at 61½.

The new loan of the Erie Company for £800,000 sterling is last quoted at 2¼@2¾ per cent. premium. The bids reached £3,700,000.

Virginia Sixes have improved about five per cent., closing at 40@42.

The latest news by the North American states that the bids for the Erie Railway were four times in excess of the amount required.

THE SHENANDOAH.

From the London Times, Sept. 26.

There is every reason to hope that peace abroad as well as at home will be the leading him of President JOHNSON'S policy. Few could have expected that one who denounced rebellion so sternly would display such moderation and humanity in the hour of triumph, or that so eager a partisan would prove capable of rising to the above party influences. Perhaps Mr. JOHNSON himself, like his predecessor, Mr. LINCOLN, hardly foresaw the mellowing effect of responsibility upon his earlier views, and would freely admit that in his short experience of office he has both learnt and forgotten much. This power of rapid self adaptation is an eminently American virtue, and it has infinitely facilitated the work of pacification in the South. The Southerners do not pretend to have altered their private convictions, but they look facts in the face, and, finding the question of slavery settled once for all by force of arms, they make the best of it and cheerfully rejoin the Union. The same good sense and readiness to let bygones be bygones have been shown by the Northern people, and still more remarkably by the government. What concerns us, however, more nearly is the present attitude of the United States toward foreign powers, and here, again, it is but just to acknowledge that our fears have not been realized. Even Mr. COBDEN firmly believed that a declaration of war against the Mexican Empire would follow immediately upon the subjugation of the South, but nothing of the kind has yet taken place, or appears to be contemplated. Our own relations with the Washington Government have never been more friendly since France and England, in justice to the United States as well as themselves, recognized the Confederates as belligerents. Mr. SEWARD, indeed, took exception to the terms in which Lord RUSSELL announced the withdrawal of that recognition, but he coupled his remonstrances with assurances of his desire not only to preserve amity, but to establish "a lasting and intimate friendship betwen the two nations." The sincerity of this desire is fully appreciated in this country, and the remembrance of any misunderstandings that may have arisen in the course of the war is becoming fainter and fainter every day on this side of the Atlantic. It is, therefore, peculiarly vexatious to hear that one source of irritation, which ought long since to have been closed, is still kept open by the proceedings of the Shenandoah, which continues to rove the seas under a Confederate flag.

After recapitulating the grounds of complaint urged against Great Britain in the United States, the Times goes on to say:

"When the recognition of the Confederate States as belligerents was cancelled on the 2d of June last, all the ports in our empire were closed against vessels of war under a Confederate flag, and all such vessels were cautioned to depart forthwith, but the twenty-four hours' rule was to be maintained in their favor 'then and for the last time.' A reference to the circular of the French Minister of Marine, published in the Moniteur of June 13, will show that precisely the same reservation was made by the Imperial Government: 'You will cause to be observed, for the last time in their behalf, the rule laid down in my circular of the 5th of February, 1864, and by the terms of which an interval of at least twenty-four hours must be observed between the departure of any vessel of war of one of the belligerents and the subsequent departure of any vessel of war of the other belligerent.' The justice of this provision is self-evident, but it has no bearing on the case of the Shenandoah, which was not lying in any of our ports when Lord RUSSELL'S letter was received. It is true that in the next paragraph permission was granted to Confederate C plains to enter our ports and disarm their vessels, at their own risk, within one month after the receipt of that letter by the Colonial authorities, but it was expressly added that the twenty-four hours' rule would there be inapplicable. The worst, therefore, that could happen is, that Capt. WADDELL should have presented himself at Vancouver's Island within a month after the Governor had received Lord RUSSELL'S dispatch, obtained leave to disarm the Shenandoah, and thereby saved himself from the doom of a pirate. It is highly improbable that he would have bethought himself of doing so while he was in hot pursuit of the whaling fleet. Even if he had, the Shenandoah's career would be at an end, for she must instantly part with her armament; whereas if he had not, the day of grace would be over, and no British port would be open to him. Whether, by his conduct, he has not forfeited all claim to avail himself of any such privilege, is a further question which may be left to the legal advisers of the Crown, but we do not scruple to express the hope that, in the event of its arising, it may be answered in the affirmative.

GREAT BRITAIN.

THE FENIAN AGITATION.

ABSURDITY OF THE DELUSION.

From the London Times, Sept. 27.

To appreciate the enormity of the Fenian delusion it is only necessary to observe a few facts. The American belief of the conspirators firmly believe that an army of 200,000 men exists in Ireland, enrolled, organized, and effective in all respects, saving officers and arms. The Irish half believes that officers and arms sufficient for 200,000 men are on their way from America on board a fleet of ironclads, and will soon arrive. Out of these two notions the reality of the plot has to be constructed. We have already fathomed the depth of one of them, and we can take a pretty fair measure of the other. It is just possible that some thousands of Irish shopboys, artisans and laborers, have taken a Fenian oath, and not impossible that a few hundreds of them have had as much drill as could be given by a discharged militiaman on a moonlight night two or three times a week. That, however, is the amount and quality of the "organization" at home. Abroad, we have no doubt that a vast number of Irishmen in various parts of the United States have become nominal members of the "Brotherhood," but to suppose that they will venture their persons in a descent upon the British Isles, or that they will provide the Fenians in Ireland with either money or munitions for a single day's parade, would be a complete hallucination. Perhaps a case or two of arms may have been dispatched to Cork; indeed, it seems from the movements of our cruisers on the coast that they have actually been instructed to look out for some political smuggler; but of the two shams we believe even the Fenian army to have more substance than its armory.

The more completely the scheme is revealed, the more supremely absurd does it appear. The Irish recruits must have thought that scattered companies of harebrained lads trained just to keep step and know their facings could suddenly coalesce into an effective army under officers which they had never seen, and with weapons which they had never handled. The Fenians in America must have fancied that they could transport from that country and disembark on the shores of Ireland the leaders and the material required for a force of 200,000 troops without difficulty or hindrance. Yet both these parties knew and understood, as far as they were capable of understanding, the strength of the Power against which their operations were to be directed. By all Irishmen except Fenians this point has been very clearly seen, and insisted upon with a plainness very remarkable. The Irish journals ask the Fenians what they could possibly expect to do with all the strength and intelligence even of Ireland itself against them, and the power of the British Empire behind. As to the maturity of the plot, we have learnt from the public statement of the American Fenians that the organization in Ireland, such as we have found it, was actually complete. There was nothing more to be done. The preparations were finished, the army was enrolled, and the "day of provisional government" was "established." The tailors, plasterers and railway porters now in prison represent the approved heads of a ripe conspiracy. In fact, the contemptuous indifference of the government led to greater openness on the part of the conspirators than was originally designed. In the beginning, and in device, the Fenian Brotherhood was a very secret society, but its members at last grew so bold and threw disguise aside so generally that they left us little to learn.

CONTINUED ARRESTS.

Arrests of Fenians continue, and important documentary evidence is accumulating against them.

Among the papers discovered is one giving the particulars of expected arrivals at Bantry Bay of armsbearing vessels from America.

The Cork Examiner gives as report that a special commission will shortly be convened for that city to try the Fenian prisoners on the charge of high treason.

Fenianism is said to have been discovered among the Irish residents in London, and the police were keeping a strict surveillance over them.

Fenian arrests continue of daily occurrence in the Irish provinces. A passenger by the steamship City of Manchester, from New-York, named O'RIORDAN, who asserts he is a United States Captain, wes arrested at Queenstown on landing from the steamer. Treasonable documents were found on him. Three additional arrests were reported among the troops in the garrison at Cork. The prisoners in Dublin, forty-one in all, were to be brought up for examination on the day the China left Liverpool.

The official Dublin Gazette of the 29th, contains a proclamation disarming several baronies in Tipperary, Limerick and Waterford Counties.

ARREST OF POST-OFFICE CLERKS.

A telegram from Dublin of Monday, Sept. 26, says: "Five alleged Fenians were arrested in Killarney to-day, including clerks in the Killarney Post-office and in the Crown Prosecutor's office for the County of Kerry. Other arrests are expected, and a few additional prisoners in various places.

THE FENIAN CRUISER HOAX.

A dispatch from Dublin says: Very considerable excitement was caused here on Saturday by the receipt of a telegram, plausibly announcing that a Fenian cruiser or pirate had overhauled an American vessel. It was to this effect:

LIVERPOOL, Saturday, Sept. 30.

The American ship Hannah, from Cardenas, has arrived here. On the 15th inst., in lat. 50:53, long. 27:16, she was overhauled by a large screw steamer, heavily armed and full of men. The steamer showed the Fenian colors, and a green flag with the harp in the centre.

Later, however, the following telegram allayed all feeling on the subject, and will serve as a caution to parties against allowing themselves to be similarly hoaxed on another occasion:

"The story of the Hannah having been overhauled by a cruiser carrying the Fenian flag is a hoax."

LARGE SEIZURE OF SHOT AND SHELL.

On Monday last the Liverpool Customs authorities seized the screw steamer Collina, which arrived at Liverpool on Sunday from St. Nazaire. Her manifest did not include 120 tons of shot and shell, which was found on board. The Customs authorities continue in possession of her, and await instructions from the government.

THE PRINCE OF WALES POSTPONES HIS VISIT TO IRELAND.

The Inverness Advertiser is authorized to state that circumstances have compelled the Prince of WALES to abandon his intention of visiting the Duke of SUTHERLAND at Dunrobin, this year.

The London Times suggests that the Prince of WALES should visit Ireland occasionally, and points out that the royal family have passed more time on the continent than in the sister kingdom.

THE FENIANS IN AMERICA.

The Times correspondent in America represents the Fenians as mustering 300, 000 men in America.

MISCELLANEOUS.

Sir ROBERT PEEL, Chief Secretary of Ireland, has been summoned before a magistrate by ROBERT GREY, a Dublin banker, in consequence of an altercation in a railway carriage.

The Countess of CLARE, the mother of Lady WODEHOUSE, is dead.

The Philadelphia correspondent of the London Times, points out that President JOHNSON has taken a decided conservative stand, and has thrown his protection over the conquered Confederate States.

The Times has an editorial on this text, and expresses the belief that the lenient and generous policy of the President will, within the next few months, enable the Southern States again to send representatives to Congress.

It was stated that an effort was about to be made by the Committee of the Confederate Bondholders to induce the Stock Exchange Committee to admit them to the privilege of quotation.

BARINGS Circular reports considerable transactions in Southern States stocks, but gives no quotation.

The Countess DE PARIS had given birth to a daughter at Twickenham, near London. A large number of the royal family of France were present on the occasion.

Alderman PHILLIPS, who is of the Hebrew faith, had been unanimously elected Lord Mayor of London.

The will of the late Mr. COBDEN, executed the day before his death, had been sworn to as under £8,000 sterling personalty.

A writer in the Times asserts that the gold fields of Nova Scotia, if properly worked, would equal those of Australia.

ILLNESS OF CHARLES DICKENS.

The Court Journal says:

"We regret to learn that Mr. DICKENS, who is now in Paris, has had a sun-stroke. He was quite insensible for some hours, but we are happy to say, speedily recovered, and is now quite well again."

THE CATTLE PLAGUE.

The London Times of the 26th, says: "The cattle plague has suddenly exhibited an entirely new and unexpected development, and the intelligence we publish on the subject this morning is most startling. A report of Prof. SIMONDS, just issued to the Clerk of the Council, proves that the disease has broken out among the sheep, accompanied by its most fatal characteristics; and further that there is every appearance of the infection having been communicated both from sheep to cows, and from cows to sheep.

The facts of the case are singularly unmistakable and complete; the symptoms were precisely those of the cattle plague, and post-mortem examinations, both by Mr. SIMONDS and by other authorities at the Veterinary College, revealed all the familiar marks of the same disease. That the plague, therefore, has broken out among the sheep, is unquestionable."

THE FREEDMEN OF AMERICA.

Rev. W. H. CHANNING had been lecturing in Liverpool on the freedmen of America, whose future he contended promised most encouraging results.

THE CHOLERA.

The appearance of the Asiatic cholera at Southampton is disputed, but it was asserted that the yellow fever had appeared at Swansea. The government has sent a commissioner there to inquire into the matter.

INTENSELY HOT WEATHER.

The weather continued intensely hot for the season in England, but there were indications of a change when the North American sailed.

COTTON SPECULATION.

The London Morning Herald's city article utters a warning voice against the prevailing buoyancy and speculation in the cotton trade of Liverpool and Manchester. It says that the public must prepare for some fresh financial disaster unless some repression takes place.

FRANCE.

The Moniteur, alluding to the reported speedy evacuation of Rome, says that no doubt should exist relative to the intentions of the French Government. So soon as France shall consider the proper moment to have arrived, she will, in concert with the Pontifical Government, adopt necessary measures for the commencement of the evacuation of Rome, in order that the withdrawal of the French troops may be completed within an appointed period.

The Bank of France returns for the week show a decrease in cash of 7,250,000 francs.

It is reported that the Empress EUGENIE had published a little pamphlet on Mexico, for circulation among her friends, called "Mexico, from a Providential Point of View."

The Bourse, on the 29th, was firm and animated. Rentes, 68f. 55c.

AUSTRIA.

It is stated that the Austrian Ministry had addressed a dispatch to most of the European Governments, in which it is declared, in emphatic language, that the late Imperial manifesto or rescript must be taken to imply that the Austrian Government is sincerely bent on governing with constitutional and representative forms.

The resignation of Baron BACH, the Austrian Ambassador at the Papal Court, is confirmed.

PRUSSIA.

The semi-official provincial correspondence says:

"The taking possession of Lauenburg by the Prussian dynasty is an accomplished fact, and it shows that the consent of the Prussian Diet to this acquisition of German territory is unnecessary."

The following is the programme to be observed during the King of Prussia's visit to Lauenburg: His Majesty will arrive on the frontier of the Duchy at 5 P. M. on the 25th, and will be received with state honors at Bachen, Mollu and Ratzeburg. At the latter place a dinner will be given by the municipality to the King, followed by a torchlight procession, during which the King will drive through the town. On Sept. 27, at noon, the King will proceed to the Church of Ratzeburg, where he will take the oath of allegiance from the nobility and gentry of the province—a dinner and ball will then be given. On the 27th His Majesty will leave Ratzeburg for Lauenburg and Mollu, and will afterward return to Berlin.

THE GASTEIN CONVENTION.

A dispatch from Brussels says: "The Nord publishes a telegram from Paris, which says: 'The text of Earl RUSSELL'S circular upon the Gastein treaty, published by the Independance Belge, is an invention, the object of which was to create the belief that a good understanding existed between the English and French cabinets. The circular of M. DROUYN DE LHUYS is alone authentic.'"

The Nord believes it is able to guarantee the accuracy of the above intelligence.

A telegram from Paris of Saturday, says: "In contradiction to the telegram of the Nord, it is asserted that the dispatch of Earl RUSSELL upon the Gastein Convention, as published by the Independance Belge, is authentic."

The genuine text of Earl RUSSELL'S circular on the Gastein Convention was published in the journals of Sept. 26. It differs only in a few verbal particulars from the version with which the public are already familiar.

ROME.

A telegram from Rome of Sept. 25, says: "A secret consistory was held to-day in which the Pope delivered an allocution. He nominated one English, one Irish, one Belgian, and four Spanish Bishops, ten for other countries, and eight in partibus infidelium."

At a recent consistory, the Pope, in his allocution, is reported to have spoken against sects in general, and Freemasonry in particular, and to have censured the sovereign who protected them. In connection with the subject he adverted to the obsequies of Marshal MAUGAN at Paris.

TURKEY.

The Porte has addressed a note of censure to Prince COUZA on account of the severity displayed by his government during the late riots at Bucharest.

The Pall Mall Gazette says: "It is generally believed at Constantinople that a political catastrophe is impending in the Danubian principalities, and Turkey is preparing to be first in the field in case of intervention. MUCHI ABDI PASCHA, who commanded the First Corps d'Armée at Sémla, has been ordered to be ready to march 15,000 men across the Danube at twenty-four hours' notice.

There has been incessant rain in Bombay for a fortnight, during which thirty-five inches have fallen. The traffic on the Bombay and Baroda railway has been suspended beyond Surat, on account of the floods. No serious damage had been done.

The steamer Lord Clyde, dispatched by the government with supplies to relieve the famine at Aden, has returned from stress of weather.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL.

LONDON MONEY MARKET.

Consols dull and easier. There is considerable demand for discount at the bank and in the open market. Money is rather tight, and 4 ₱ cent. is the current rate for the best bills. There is, however, no pressure.

LATEST.

On the 28th the Bank of England's rate of discount was raised from 4@4½ ₱ cent.

The demand for discount continued very active, notwithstanding the advance in the bank rate to 4½ ₱ cent., and the question was raised whether a fresh advance might not soon be necessary. The rise in the value of money had not improved exchanges to the continent. Silver was in demand for India, owing to the rise in cotton. Bar Silver advanced to 5s. 1d. Funds were dull and drooping, unfavorably influenced by the Money Market.

LATEST INTELLIGENCE BY THE CHINA.

By Telegraph to Queenstown.

QUEENSTOWN, Sunday, Oct. 1.

The Fenian prisoners were brought before the Police Magistrates at Dublin yesterday, including the editor and proprietor of the Irish People newspaper.

Mr. BARRY, Queen's Counsel, appeared for the Crown and made a long speech. He said that within the last fortnight three thousand five hundred pounds had arrived from America to be expended in revolutionizing Ireland, and by that day's mail the government had intercepted a letter for one of the prisoners, named LARKIN, containing a draft for four hundred and fifteen pounds on the house of ROTHSCHILDS. Several other letters contained bills of exchange. The making of pikes has also been extensively carried on. One of the prisoners had made two thousand of these murderous weapons. Numerous revolvers and breastplates had also been found in possession of the prisoners connected with the Irish People newspaper. He quoted an incendiary paragraph, urging the employment of force, from a number of that paper, which was about to be issued when seized.

Mr. BARRY concluded his speech by asserting that the Fenians were powerful both in Ireland and America. He trusted that this affair would end forever such hopeless conspiracies.

Evidence was then given against the prisoners, and some of them were identified as connected with the suppressed Fenian organ.

The investigation is still pending and will probably last for several days.

At a private examination of six of the Fenians, at Dublin Castle, evidence was put in showing that the plot of the Fenians was of the most sanguinary character. It was to write down the nobility, the aristocracy and the landowners, and assassinate them all on the breaking out of the rebellion. The Duke of LEINSTER, and others, were specially named for assassination. The linen manufacturers, and others, were to be called on to give material support to the Fenian cause under threats of extermination and confiscation of their property, if they refused to do so.

The evidence of treason against the prisoners is said to be most complete.

THE LOST CABLE.

THE EPISCOPAL CONVENTION.

PHILADELPHIA, Monday, Oct. 9.

The General Convention of the Episcopal Church reassembled at 10 o'clock this morning.

Rev. Dr. BURGESS, of Maine, from the Committee on the Consecration of Bishops, reported that due evidence of the election of Rev. CHARLES TODD QUINTARD, as Bishop of Tennessee, had been submitted to them, and they submitted a resolution to this effect, which was adopted by the convention, after a long and excited discussion, that they approve of the testimonials of Rev. CHARLES TODD QUINTARD, and give their consent to his consecration as Bishop of the Diocese of Tennessee.

A petition from the Diocese of Pennsylvania, asking for a division of that diocese was presented by Mr. WELSH, and referred to the Committee on Dioceses.

The House agreed to vote with the House of Bishops at 12 o'clock on Tuesday in nominating a Board of Missions.

Discussion was then resumed on the special order of the day, namely: The proposed new canon preventing clergymen from entering the military or naval service except as chaplains.

After a long debate, discussion of the proposed canon was postponed, to allow the deputies to sign the testimonial of the Bishop elect of Tennessee.

The different dioceses were then called in alphabetical order.

One layman from Maine refused to sign the testimonial.

All the laymen from Massachusetts, with the exception of one, refused to sign it.

The members present from all the other dioceses signed the testimonial. Adjourned.

FROM THE OIL REGIONS.

Destructive Fire—Loss $150,000.

PIT HOLE, Monday, Oct. 9.

The most destructive conflagration that ever took place in the oil regions occurred here about 1 o'clock this morning, but fortunately terminated without loss of life. The tanks of the largest flowing mill on Pit Hole, known as "Grant," containing 4,000 barrels of oil, caught fire, spreading destruction in all directions. Thirteen derricks and engine-houses, on the following leases, were destroyed: Nos, 16, 17, 18, 19, 20, 21, 22 and 23 on the "Hormder Farm," and Nos. 2, 4 and 5 on the "Morey Farm," covering a surface of five acres.

The total loss will reach $150,000.

All of the oil belonged to the owners of the land interest, and the United States Petroleum Company, of New-York.

The tanks, building and property belonged to the owners of the working interest in the well, and was insured for $29,000 in the Associated Company of New-York.

PIT HOLE, Penn., Monday, Oct. 9.

The Fire at Grant Well was extinguished about noon. The well was not injured. The loss will not exceed $100,000.

Mr. BATSFORD, who was waylaid and robbed on Saturday, is still alive, and some hopes are now entertained of his recovery.

STATE POLITICS.

Opening of the Campaign in New-York.

Speech of Hon. Henry Wilson at Yonkers.

Reconstruction, Negro Suffrage, and the Policy of President Johnson Discussed.

Difference Between the Republicans and the Democracy.

A Mild Suggestion to John Van Buren.

The Republicans of Westchester County generally, and of Yonkers particularly, opened the Fall campaign last night with an enthusiasm rarely found outside of the rural districts. Although the meeting which was held on this occasion had the advantage only of some forty-eight hours' announcement, the good people thereabouts rallied in great numbers about the standard, on which is inscribed the name of Gen. BARLOW, and hailed with delight the near prospect of an address from that gallant soldier, backed as he was by Hon. Senator WILSON, of Massachusetts.

Judging from the remarks made by the many who attended the meeting, the room would not have been able to contain the hundreds who were anxious to be present, but to whom no formal notification had been sent.

Punctually at the appointed hour Senator WILSON, escorted by Dr. PIKE and Mr. JOTHAM SMITH, of the Statesman, entered the hall, and were greeted with hearty and prolonged applause. The Doctor, in an anticipatory mood, said:

LADIES AND GENTLEMEN: I have the pleasure of introducing Senator WILSON, after which he retired.

Mr. M. F. ROWE nominated Mr. OSBORN E. BRIGHT as Chairman of the meeting. Taking the platform, Mr. BRIGHT said:

LADIES AND GENTLEMEN: We had hoped to present the gallant Gen. BARLOW to you to-night, but in this we are disappointed, but we have with us a Senator of the United States, famed as well for his eloquence as for his undeviating loyalty and steadfast adherence to his country's cause in the hour of her gloom. Permit me to introduce Hon. HENRY WILSON, of Massachusetts.

SPEECH OF SENATOR WILSON.

Mr. CHAIRMAN: Five years ago I came here by request to ask you to vote for ABRAHAM LINCOLN for President of the United States. The storm of denunciation, ridicule and reproach rested upon him, you and all of us. Our purposes were misrepresented everywhere. Demagogism swept over the land, and we were told if we elected him President the government of our fathers would be ruined. Unawed by these threats we went to the ballot-box and made ABRAHAM LINCOLN President of the United States. Five years have passed, and I came again to ask you men of Yonkers, if you are sorry you voted as you did; if you are sorry you voted for LINCOLN, the noblest name that graces the nineteenth century. Are you prepared to disown your own principles, your own policy, to let a party live who five years ago opposed ABRAHAM LINCOLN, and who for four years has given a halting support to the government of the country? One year ago a bloody rebellion was pending, a Presidential election was before us, and trouble stared us in the face all over the land. We asked you then to vote for ABRAHAM LINCOLN, and we were met with the Chicago platform and the declaration that the war would result in a failure. They denounced the war for the Union as a failure, and demanded a cessation of hostilities. Never was a people so tried as we. We were called upon to make sacrifices of affection and means, and in face of all, the people, firm and confident, marched up to the ballot-box and reelected our President. [Applause.] When the sun went down that day the cause of America was victorious. The cheers of our people were met by the cheers of our soldiers, and their votes together rained down terrific blows upon the head of the rebellion. The peoples of the earth understood that we were determined to put down the rebellion by war. SHERMAN led his gallant army to the sea; GRANT led the glorious Army of the Potomac to Petersburgh; the rebellion went down, was trampled into powder under the iron heel of war, and no men were ever subjugated as were the rebels. Last April you were startled with the intelligence that ABRAHAM LINCOLN had been murdered. That intelligence drew tears from the eyes of manhood. His body passed along this noble river to its last resting-place, and the world resounded with his fame. He has left a name second to none but that of our own WASHINGTON—second to none in the nineteenth century.

WHY IS HE MOURNED

by the world? Because he stood before it the exponent of the humanity of America. Because he was the trusted leader of the Republican party of the United States. I stand here proudly in the conscious dignity that I belong to a party that, measured by the standard of justice and humanity, has never had a peer on this planet. Never. It is is not yet 11 years old, and it has done more good than any other political party that ever lived. It embodies the great middling interests of this country. Its leading men are not all wise nor good, but its ideas, principles, measures, aims and ends, are as lofty as the sublime creed of the New Testament, and of the immortal Declaration of Independence.

It has lived up to its faith. You find it at every moment of time and on every question standing for the higher and better sentiments of the American people, and it was because LINCOLN was the embodiment of this party, that his memory will be ever green in the hearts of the people of the world. What has this party done that it should die, and what the Democratic party, that it should live? With its work not yet completed, why should it die? Its every act is in favor of the Union and of its preservation. Every achievement for human liberty has been its in the last ten years. On every single question for ten years concerning the rights of man, the DEMOCRATIC PARTY HAS BEEN RECREANT.

Look at the record. It is necessary, because the Chicago Democracy is trying to get out of a bad position and into a new one. In 1852 the Whig party, that had been led by ADAMS, CLAY and WEBSTER, went into the canvass, led by WINFIELD SCOTT, but FRANKLIN PIERCE, of New-Hampshire, was elected President, and he declared that peace and concord and unity prevailed, and should not be disturbed during his administration. This was made in the presence of the nation and before God. This party then confessed the peace and prosperity of the country, and in eight years they left it with seven States gone out, a Confederacy organized with armies in the field, carrying 175,000 stolen muskets in their hands. And these men who took the govment in power and left it broken, ask us, who have broken down this rebellion, who have restored peace to the country and made it united and free, [applause,] they ask us now, when the great commences, when we have a President and Cabinet of our choice, to forget who and what we are and what we are about—to turn the government over to them. Why, who and what are they? I've slept with them, and Wintered and Summered with them, and know them thoroughly. In 1854 the slave power asked them to let slavery pass into Kansas; and this I remember—I remember that they sanctioned the infamous doctrine of the Supreme Court; that they swore they would plunge the country into civil war; that they raised the standard of revolt in the Southern States; that they presented as a compromise eatablishing slavery below a certain line, a compromise permitting masters to take their slaves wherever they chose, denying the rights of citizenship to the colored people everywhere; but we did not yield, we stood by the Union. They plunged us into the bloody trial of civil war, and we met the issue. Look at their

CONDUCT DURING THE WAR.

The rebels took their slaves into the field. They made their fortifications for them. Republicanism said let the blacks fight, but make them free; the Democracy said let them fight, but don't make them free. We made them free. The blacks flocked to our armies, and some of our officers permitted rebel masters to search their camps for them. We said: Our officers shall not return loyal blacks to disloyal masters; Democracy said: Return them. We found that the hoe and spade of the black sustained the rebellion quite as effectually as their masters' muskets. We said: We will free any slaves that come over to our ranks; but Democracy said: Rather let them work for their rebel masters. We found them efficient, and said: Let us put muskets into their hands. We did it, and one hundred and fifty thousand of them have fought our battles on the field. Democracy said we must not arm the blacks. Humanity and justice bade us free the soldiers who fought the battles of our country, and we did make them free. Humanity bade us free his wife and children. Democracy said no; but we did it, and seventy-five thousand women and children have been made free in Kentucky alone. Decency said: Abolish slavery in the national capital; Democracy said no; we said yes; and we did it. [Applause.] We have also made the territories of our country free, in spite of the votes of the Democracy. The interests, power and glory of the country bade us forever abolish this institution, which plunged us into the horrors of civil war, and we passed in the Congress of the United States an amendment forever abolishing slavery in the United States. Republicans voted for it, and Democrats, unless they had their pay for it, voted

The changes in the Bank return this afternoon are partially accounted for by the admission into the Clearing-House of the First National Bank, which, on a Capital of $500,000, reports:

Loans and Discounts	$2,589,809
Deposits	4,390,881
Legal Tender	2,793,625

The changes otherwise are not important. The Banks reporting last Monday appear to have transferred about $4,000,000 of their Legal Tender and other means into Loans, (probably to the Government,) while their Deposit and Specie lines continue steady.

The extraordinary (additional) rise of 4d. sterling the pound in the Liverpool Cotton market, reported by the China, at Halifax, to-day, together with a further decided advance in United States 5-20s and Erie and Illinois Central in London, created a buoyant feeling on the Street to-day. The rise in Cotton on a stock of 350,000 bales in all our ports is equal to fourteen millions of dollars in Gold, added to the value of the same stock as it stood last Saturday. Several millions additional in Gold are added to the Cotton afloat hence to Liverpool on American account. Private advices by this steamer report an active demand for Government 5-20s in the English market, and large purchases, chiefly for investment, at buoyant prices.

The market for Money is fairly active at 6@7 ℔ cent. at call to the Stock and Money Brokers. The price of Gold is ⅛ ℔ cent. weaker than on Saturday, and Bills on London are abundant at 109½@109⅝ ℔ cent. for Gold. The English Cotton news removes the prospect of any considerable export demand for Gold, while the requirements to pay into the Custom-house for duties will be qualified by the renewed sales from the Treasury Office. The government has neither motive nor occasion for the further accumulation of Gold in the New-York Office.

The Stock Exchange opened with some signs of depression early in the day especially on Michigan Southern, and Cleveland and Pittsburgh, the favorites of last week's upward movement. But soon after the First regular Board adjourned the foreign news became generally known, and the market was strengthened throughout the Railways and also on Government Stocks. The differences paid in the course of one or two hours on Erie, New-York Central, Michigan Southern, Pittsburgh, Reading, &c., were from 1½ to 3 ℔ cent., and at the Second Board, at 2:30 P. M., the general market continued strong and upward, Erie advancing to 92½, New-York Central to 103, and Michigan Southern to 78 ℔ cent.

At 4 o'clock, on Broad-street, (Open Board of Brokers,) the following quotations were made as compared with Saturday afternoon, the market closing feverishly:

What Makes Coal Dear.

From the Scranton (Penn.) Register.

In the cities, where the burden of the high price of coal falls so heavily upon the consumers, the impression is, as we are informed, made to prevail that the high price is owing to the exorbitant demands of the miners. That such is not the fact, and that consumers must look elsewhere for the true cause, is shown by the following statement, made up from information obtained from reliable sources, principally from practical men engaged as operators in the business of mining:

	Per ton.
Coal in the mines is held to be worth	$ 25
Mining the same	80
Preparing for market	80
Making the cost of coal here	$1 85

The charge of the railroad company for transporting coal from this point to Elizabethport, a distance of one hundred and thirty-two miles, is three and one-half cents per ton per mile, or a

Total for transportation of	$4 62
To this add cost of coal here	1 85
And we have	$6 47

as the cost of coal at Elizabethport, when shipped by the operators themselves, and of which the miners receive but eighty cents. In this calculation the cost of transportation is fixed at the basis of three and a half cents per ton per mile. The law fixes the price below three and a half cents, but the charge of the company for the use of cars, in addition to the legal tolls, swells it to that sum.

On coal shipped North, we have been informed by men engaged in transportation in that direction, that the price per ton to Syracuse, as charged by the company, is $5, with 90 cents additional for the use of each car required in the shipment.

Gentlemen here, engaged in coal operations, and whose experience as transporters enables them to form correct calculations on the subject, assure us that even with the high price of everything—labor and material included—employed in the construction of cars, the company could make a most liberal percentage on its capital invested, with the cost of importation, including charge for cars, fixed at 2½ cents per ton per mile. This would bring the coal at Elizabethport as follows:

Cost at point of shipment	$1 85
Transportation	3 30
Total cost at Elizabethport	$5 15

From these statements, which we believe to be true, and in the formation of which liberal allowance has been made both for the railroad company and the operators, it can easily be settled to the satisfaction of every man how far the charge of exorbitance should apply to the miner, how far to the operator, and how far to the railroad company.

NEWS OF THE DAY.

GENERAL NEWS.

On Sunday morning last, while all the people were at church, California was terribly shaken by an earthquake. Two tremendous shocks were felt within the space of half a minute. The church-bells were rung by the agitation of the earth, walls were cracked, plastering knocked down, and some crockery smashed. One or two unfinished buildings in San Francisco were thrown down; but no lives were lost, and but few persons were injured, though everybody was terribly scared.

The campaign was opened last evening by Hon. HENRY WILSON at Yonkers, before a large and enthusiastic audience. Mr. WILSON spoke upwards of an hour in most felicitous terms, defending from the friendship of the Democracy the President, and submitting to critical tests the new-born indorsement of his acts and policy.

The bridge on the East Tennessee and Virginia Railroad over the Holston River is completed, thus establishing direct communication between Chattanooga and Washington. The Cincinnatians are troubled lest trade may thus be diverted from their city.

H. CLAY WRIGHT attempted to commit suicide in Leavenworth a few days since while laboring under temporary insanity. He tried to cut his throat with a razor.

A vessel which arrived yesterday, at Halifax, reports seeing one of the buoys attached to the Atlantic cable. It was in a somewhat dilapidated condition.

FROM EUROPE.

Three steamers arrived yesterday from Europe, the Bremen at this port, the North American at Father Point, and the China at Halifax. The news is up to the 1st inst., one week later than by the Persia. The Fenian agitation still continues to create excitement. Arrests are daily made, and the government shows a disposition to deal with great firmness with all the leaders in the movement. American Securities have been very active at advanced rates, the Five-Twenties reaching 70¾. The news from the Continent is not especially important.

LOCAL NEWS.

A divorce suit of considerable interest came up yesterday, before Justice INGRAHAM, in the Supreme Court. In September, 1864, the plaintiff, GABRIELLA SÆLTZER, wife of ALEXANDER SÆLTZER, obtained a decree of absolute divorce from her husband on the ground of adultery. She now moves to have the same set aside, and the case sent to a referee, on the ground that the proceedings were commenced in sport and not for the purpose of securing a final separation; also, on the ground that the Supreme Court decree was obtained by collusion and fraud. About six months after the judgment of divorce the husband—who was found guilty of adultery—married another woman in the State of New-Jersey; and it is claimed that he is now in contempt and has no legal standing in court, having violated the laws of the State of New-York and the provisions of the decree, both of which forbid the offending persons under the circumstances marrying again during the lifetime of the other. The case was argued at much length, but no decision has yet been rendered.

The cases of EDWARD B. KETCHUM, charged with forgery, and of JENKINS and BROWN, charged with defrauding the Phenix Bank, had been set down for trial in the Court of Sessions yesterday. A crowd of interested spectators, and the extra panel of one thousand jurors, filled the court-room, but were disappointed in their expectation of witnessing a great criminal trial. KETCHUM, through his counsel, offered to plead guilty to the indictment, if the court would defer the day for recording the plea until the latter part of the term. This proposition was accepted, and the last day of the term named for the reception of the plea. The cases of JENKINS and BROWN were postponed until the November term of the court.

Last evening, at Cooper Institute, Miss SUSANNAH EVANS, the youthful Cambrian oratress, addressed a highly respectable audience, and gave the net proceeds of the lecture to private ALFRED A. STRATTON, an honored Union soldier, who lost both arms in the historic charge, on the 18th of June, 1864, upon Fort Steadman, at Petersburgh. Miss EVANS' subject, "The Soldier's Empty Sleeve," was handled with grace and ability. A detachment of the veteran Fourteenth Brooklyn Volunteers, under Capt. BALDWIN, occupied seats on the stage.

There were 476 deaths in this city last week. Three of the number were from apoplexy, 24 from inflammation of the lungs, 16 from inflammation of the bowels, 28 from cholera infantum, 23 from diarrhea, 17 from typhoid fever, 8 from typhus fever, 1 from small-pox, 9 from dropsy in the head, 8 from disease of the heart, 1 from lockjaw, and 8 from old age. Two hundred and eighty-six of the persons who died were children; 51 of the number were of native parentage, and 235 of foreign parentage.

The Fair of the American Institute continues to be crowded every day and night. Last evening, several hundred recently discharged soldiers, who had not seen for over three years anything pertaining to art or science, or the decencies, even, of civilization, visited the fair and attracted very general attention. A balloon ascension will be made in a few days, of which due notice will be given to the public.

The Board of Fire Commissioners held their usual tri-weekly meeting yesterday afternoon at Fireman's Hall. On motion of Commissioner ENGS, a resolution was passed requesting the Comptroller of the city to deposit $100,000 with the City Chamberlain to the credit of the department, on account of appropriations by the Board of Supervisors for the year 1865.

Neither Board of the Common Council met yesterday. It is rumored that no meeting of the boards will take place until Gov. FENTON has rendered a decision in the case of the Comptroller and other city officials, when it is probable that some important business will be transacted.

Yesterday the Tunisian Ambassador and suite paid a visit to Mayor GUNTHER at the City Hall. After which the party went to the Brooklyn Navy-yard, on invitation of Admiral BELL, now in command, and inspected the various objects of interest there. In the evening they attended the Academy of Music.

At a regular meeting of the Marine Society yesterday, resolutions were passed deploring the death of the late President, Capt. CHARLES H. MARSHALL. Mr. JOHN M. FERRIER, first Vice-President, was formally elected President in his stead.

HENRY MEDLEY, a colored cook, fell overboard and was drowned, on Sunday evening, from the bark Jean Lithgons, at West Tenth-street, North River.

At the Live Stock Markets yesterday, the supply of butchering animals was larger than usual. There were 4,854 beeves upon the books for the opening of the market. The quality of the bullocks was an improvement upon that of last week's supply. The highest quotation yesterday was 18c. ₱ lb. net. Sheep remain about as last week. The supply will not probably fall short of that of two weeks ago. It is doubtful if the very choicest lots bring 8c. ₱ lb., live weight, this week. Milch cows and veals continue firm.

The latest English cotton and American stock news created considerable excitement yesterday, in Wall-street. The Stock Exchange advanced; Bills on London were weaker; Money steady, and Gold dull. The private advices by the China report large transactions in American securities, especially United State 5-20s, at advancing prices, the demand coming mainly from buyers for investment.

Broadstuffs were in less demand and cheaper, yesterday. Provisions were unsettled in price; Pork and Beef having advanced, and Lard and Tallow declined. Groceries were in moderate request, as were also Hay, Hops, Oils, Metals and Wool. Cotton was much more sought after and was decidedly higher. Freights were very quiet.

The State Election—Prospects of the Canvass.

The Democratic organs profess to be very confident of success in the coming election. But their confidence is based wholly on presumed or predicted divisions in the ranks of the Administration Party. All their efforts in the canvass are to foment such divisions. Their orators and their presses teem with assertions that such divisions exist, and with appeals to personal jealousies, hatreds and distrusts, for the purpose of increasing them. The World and Argus are eloquent and pathetic in assuring the "radicals" that WEED and Company controlled the Syracuse Convention; and they are equally eloquent and pathetic in assuring the "conservatives" that the radicals control the party. SUMNER, GREELEY, WENDELL PHILLIPS, and other first-class bugbears, are paraded diligently for effect upon one class of Union men; while SEWARD, WEED and President JOHNSON are held up for the terror of another. The matter of negro suffrage is the particular hobby upon which all these intrigues are made to hinge.

Now this is a very petty style of political controversy, indicating extreme poverty of resources and barrenness of brains on the part of those who use it. If the canvass were limited to a week or ten days it might be productive of some effect. But it is a short-lived device, and is very certain to react before the time for voting comes. The very attempt by one party to create division in another always defeats itself. Its motives are too transparent. However Union men may differ among themselves upon unessential points, any attempt of the common enemy to take advantage of these differences creates a sentiment which overrides them. The advocates of negro suffrage know very well that whatever the Democrats may do about it will not help them, and its opponents perfectly understand the same thing.

But all parties know also that the question of negro suffrage has nothing whatever to do with the pending election. Whether negroes should or should not vote in New-York, or in Mississippi, is not to be decided now. The only shape in which the subject comes before the country at all at present is in connection with the admission of Senators and members of Congress from the Southern States. There are persons, in this State, who insist that the Southern States and people should not be represented in Congress until negroes in the South are allowed to vote;—and there are others who deny the right of Congress to impose any such conditions, and who assert for the States, under the constitution, exclusive jurisdiction over that subject. President JOHNSON belongs, in the main, to the latter class,—but he refers the whole matter to the discretion of Congress, simply disclaiming for himself any right to impose such a condition. The subject belongs, then, exclusively to Congress, and the members already elected must act upon it on their own responsibility. No direct issue has been made upon it in the present State election.

The Administrative Convention at Syracuse indorsed and approved the action of President JOHNSON on this subject with the utmost directness and emphasis. They approve the initial steps he has taken to bring back the Southern States into practical relations with the Federal Government. They approve his appointment of Provisional Governors—his maintenance of military authority until order can be assured by local force—his relaxation of military rule just as rapidly as justice and the public safety will warrant, and his requirement of allegiance to the National Government, repudiation of the principle of secession and the abandonment of slavery, at once and forever, as essential conditions of their resuming control of their own affairs. These conditions he will insist upon, and in so doing he will be sustained, heartily and zealously, by the Union party. Upon the question of negro suffrage, per se, he has taken no ground, because he holds that it is outside of his jurisdiction. He has nothing to do with it. It belongs to the people of each State—those clothed with the functions of government—to decide the matter for themselves, whenever they shall resume control of their local affairs; and he holds also that the bestowment of this control should not be postponed, so far as his action is concerned, on account of their opinions for or against negro suffrage—while it is for Congress to accept or reject these members, as they may deem best.

This is President JOHNSON's position, and he is sustained in it, heartily and thoroughly, by the Administration party of this State. There may be individual members of the party who think he ought to go further, and insist upon negro suffrage as a condition of readmission; but no party has taken this ground, nor is the Administration party, represented at Syracuse, in any way or to any extent committed to it. The babble of the Democratic organs on this subject is simple nonsense. What may have been done by conventions in other States, or what may be done and said by individuals in this, is not of the slightest consequence, for it has nothing whatever to do with this election.

The Administration party are a unit in support of President JOHNSON and his policy, and in spite of the desperate tricks and the loud bray of the Democratic organs, it will so continue. Its full strength will rally at the polls, and this is all that is necessary to insure its success.

Improvements in Our Sanitary Laws.

We showed, in a recent issue, what our police regulations—imperfect as they may be—can do to improve the condition of our tenement-houses.

A little more power, granted by law, to the police, would enable them (if sustained by the judges) to bring about the most desirable reform ever initiated in New-York. Take the vital subject of the over-crowding of population in our tenement-houses—the sources of so much crime and disease. There is absolutely no check upon it at the present time. The reports of our city charitable associations show sometimes thirty or forty lodgers in a room only large enough for four or five. From such alone come the fevers which desolate our poor quarters, and the crimes which disgrace our city. Here are bred the infant thieves, who prowl about our docks—here the prostitutes are nurtured—here burglars and murderers are fittingly educated, and all the nameless miseries of the city poor are concentrated.

Now suppose, to break up such dens, an amendment to the police act were proposed to the Legislature. We say an amendment, because this might be easier to pass than a new act, and we refer it to the police law, because sanitary measures are strictly a part of police regulations. Let it be something as follows:

"Whenever the Health Warden or Officer, or the Sanitary Police—supported by a qualified medical practitioner—shall certify to the Board of Police that any house is so overcrowded as to be dangerous or prejudicial to the health of the inhabitants, the said board shall cause proceedings to be instituted before the proper courts to abate such overcrowding, and the Justices shall thereupon take such measures to secure this as they may think fit, and the owner or agent permitting such overcrowding shall forfeit a sum not exceeding —— dollars."

A further provision might specify that each person, sleeping in a room of a tenement-house or lodging-house, must have, if over eight years, at least 500 cubic feet of space, and if under, at least 300; this being a good average limit. Some such law as this—altered in phraseology as might be thought desirable—would give the police great facilities in preventing the evils of excessive crowding of population to the courts, and if those acted with faithfulness, might go far to break up its worst forms.

Again, take the immense evil of "cellar-population" in our city. Ten years ago, it was estimated that there were 20,000 people who lived in cellars in New-York, dark, damp, pestilential abodes, where ophthalmia, diarrhea, typhoid and cholera always reveled. This number, we believe, is lessened now, owing to the progress of business-houses, which are continually making their way through the poor quarters, and driving out the destitute tenants.

There are probably some 12,000 or 15,000 persons at this time dwelling in such wretched abodes.

Suppose a law like this:

"No cellar or underground room within the Metropolitan Police District, built or rebuilt after the 1st of May, 1866, can be let or occupied seperately as a dwelling, nor any which shall not have been so let before that date. Nor, six months after the act has been passed, can any such cellar, &c., be so let or occupied, unless it be at least seven feet high in every part, at least three feet being above the surface of the street; nor, unless there be along its entire front and upward, from six inches below the floor thereof to the surface of the street, an open area at least two feet six inches wide in every part; nor unless there be a superficial window with at least nine superficial feet, made to open at the top; nor unless the same have a fireplace, with a proper chimney and flue, under penalty of not exceeding —— dollars for every day during which the same shall be so let after notice from the police."

An act like this is certainly most reasonable and humane, and would (if executed) at once force the worst of the cellar-population to new quarters or to the country, while landlords would be restrained from building such sinks of disease. Ten thousand people might be raised immediately out of their dark and pestiferous dens by such legislation.

We would go further and make, through the Legislature, a bold attack on the "fever-nests" and rookeries which are such a curse to our city, premising, as the Liverpool Sanitary Act premises—

"Whereas, there are in this city a great many houses situated in or at the entrance of, or contiguous to, courts and alleys, which houses, by reason of defects in the construction thereof, or of the want of ventilation or of proper conveniences or from other causes, are unfit for human habitation, and fevers and other diseases are constantly generated there, causing death or loss of health, not only in the courts or alleys, but also in other parts of the city, it is expedient that provision be made for the remedy thereof," &c., &c.

We would then pass some acts similar to those of Liverpool, regulating the width of all future courts which should be built, (in order to check the increasing and deadly nuisance of "double houses.") In regard to the rookeries already existing, we might adopt the main features of the Liverpool Sanitary Act of 1864. Thus:

"If the Medical Officer of Health (or the Sanitary Police) shall find that any court or ally, or any premises, is or are unfit for human habitation, or in a condition dangerous or prejudicial to health, he shall report the same."

And then that, if the Grand Jury present the premises as a nuisance, the works of improvement required must be carried out by the owner or by the corporation at his expense, or the whole may be demolished.

With such an act well executed, many an old nest of pestilence in the lower wards would be summarily broken up, (as similar have been in Liverpool,) and the health of our metropolis immensely improved. There is no reason why New-York should be behind any European city in sanitary improvements. We ought to have here all that science and legislation can offer to guard the public health, and to make it equal to any city in the world in its attractions and in its freedom from disease and pestilence.

Our Business and Financial Interests—The News from Europe.

The intelligence of this morning from Europe by the China is of importance in relation to the business and financial interests of the country. A large rise in the price of American cotton is reported, and an appreciation of two per cent. in the market rate of Five-Twenties. There are also other important items, as the advance in breadstuffs. Taken altogether, as well as separately, these things cannot help exerting a favorable influence upon the commerce and exchanges of the United States.

The advance in the Federal securities held in Europe, and the great transactions in them that are reported, are doubtless due to a variety of causes. Firstly, to the favorable influence produced by the remarkably strong and healthy Treasury exhibit made by the Secretary early in September. Secondly, to the contradiction given to the canards industriously circulated abroad that the Treasury was in straits and had demanded a new loan. Thirdly, to the magnitude and continuity of our resources from internal taxation and customs. Fourthly, to the marvelous progress that has been made in pacifying the South, reconstructing the Union, and establishing the government upon broad and solid foundations. Fifthly, to the increased prospects of peace with our neighbors and with foreign nations. Sixthly, to the recent publication of able expositions of our financial condition in the leading journals and reviews of Germany, France and England; and, consequent thereupon, to a better understanding of our national capacities, resources and prospects. All these incidents and indications have either become known in Europe for the first time in September, or have during that time been developed into an importance before unknown.

As to the matter of cotton and breadstuffs, their value and the prospects of their export, there is an interest attached far wider than the interests of those who may happen to be holders of, or speculators in, these staples. Our exports during the last six months, as compared with our imports and our capacities, have been far below the healthy standard. Specie has been sent from the country while it was much needed, and our securities have been used to settle the balances of trade against us.

The Southern cotton has steadily continued, and still continues to come into this and other chief seaports, in large volume; but far too little of it has gone abroad, and great quantities of it have been, and still are, held in the hands of dealers, in anticipation of a rise in price. The great flow of the staple to this city from the Southern States began with the month of July last. During the three months that have since then elapsed, or from the beginning of July to the close of last week, there have come to this port alone within a fraction of two hundred and seventy-five thousand bales (273,917) of cotton. Much of this has gone to meet the great demand of the New-England factories, which have been running day and night in their attempt to supply the market with staple goods. But over one hundred thousand bales are still stored here, and the stock on hand is constantly enlarging. At New-Orleans, also, there were held at latest dates, over one hundred thousand bales; at Mobile over fifty thousand; and if to these, we add the stock at Memphis, Augusta and Savannah, at the ports of Texas, and at other large depots on the Southern coast and rivers, it is probable we should find at this moment an aggregate of over half a million bales of cotton all ready for export. The speedy export of even one-half of this large supply (and we could easily spare before the close of the year a quantity equal to the whole of it) would, beyond question, produce a very great and most favorable effect upon our business, our commerce, our exchanges and our finances. We trust that the holders will find the rise in prices abroad, now reported, equal to their demands; for the considerations in favor of a speedy and heavy export of cotton from this and other American cities have an important and far-reaching character which few of them seem to comprehend. Could we send over a million of bales by the close of next May, it would give this country a control of the markets of Europe which is now greatly imperiled by the competition of other countries. It is more than likely the export, so long held in abeyance, will now at last commence in earnest; for in the two closing days of last week, and even before the receipt of the China's news, a large quantity of cotton was shipped from this port for Europe; thus showing that there have risen controlling as well as temporary tendencies in that direction.

On the whole, it is more than probable that we shall presently experience favorable influences from the various circumstances indicated in the present news by the steamship China.

AS WE SUPPOSED.—Some of our neighbors indulged in a good deal of indignation against the South on the strength of a telegraphic dispatch announcing that the Alabama Convention had "practically abolished" the admission of negro testimony in courts of justice. The Tribune made it the occasion of a very long and very emphatic leading editorial. We ventured at the time to say that the word "abolished" was undoubtedly written "established," and so it proves. The convention passed a resolution admitting negro testimony until the adjournment of the next Legislature. That body will have the right to put this matter on a permanent footing,—but meantime negroes are permitted to testify.

A Mississippi correspondent of the Associated Press telegraphs that "it is feared Gov. SHARKEY's approval of this act may defeat his election to the United States Senate." By whom it is feared he does not state,—but the object of the dispatch is to create an impression of hostility to Southern sentiment on this subject. It is but one of many attempts to use the press for the manufacture of public sentiment. We venture to suggest to the correspondent in question that his business is to report facts—not conjectures nor predictions.

THE PRESIDENT'S PLAN ABROAD.—The effect of the President's conciliatory policy abroad has a practical illustration in the news from Europe which we publish this morning. The President's speech to the Southern delegation is said to have inspired general confidence in the speedy and cordial reunion of the North and South. Along with this general statement comes the report that "the amount of business done in American securities has been of a magnitude unprecedented since the outbreak of the rebellion." Further, we are told, "Five-twenties have been largely taken at an advance of quite two per cent." The advance, however, does not extend alone to government bonds, but to other American securities as well. We refer, in another column, to various causes as leading to this result. But the great central fact with which the improvement in our credit is connected, we take to be the interpretation which is put, abroad, upon the Executive policy of reconstruction. The idea is, that a permanent military occupation of the late insurgent States means national bankruptcy; that reunion, on the President's simple method, signifies national srength, solvency and good faith with the public creditor. This foreign view of the case entirely coincides with liberal opinion here.

A NEEDLESS HUMILIATION.—Our neighbor of the Tribune has incurred the patronizing applause of the World. His views on negro suffrage are commended as in harmony with the Republican creed, and he is promised the "lead of the party" if he will only stick to them and come out in open hostility to President JOHNSON. This must be a strong temptation to Mr. GREELEY, but we fear he don't quite see how the World can give title to the great things with which it tempts him. The Editor of that journal is not the first Copperhead who has taken people up into a high mountain for similar purposes.

AMUSEMENTS.

ACADEMY OF MUSIC.—In the person of Mlle. B. DE ROSSI, who appeared here last evening for the first time, Mr. MARETZEK has evidently made a valuable addition to his already powerful company. The lady is an experienced contralto, whose voice, without any particular saliencies, is yet good, and completely at her command. She acts well, and knows the business of the stage thoroughly. Her interpretation of the rôle of Azucena was in every way satisfactory.

It is astonishing how well "Il Trovatore" yet draws. The house last evening was entirely crowded—the best but one, indeed, of the season. The artists were in fine voice, (but Signor MAZZOLENI had to shirk the high note in Di quella pera,) and the performance was good, and heartily applauded.

This (Thursday) evening BELLINI's opera of "I Puritani" will be given with KELLOGG, E. IRFRE, BELLINI and ANTONUCCI in the principal rôles.

WALLACK'S THEATRE.—The interesting domestic play of "Miriam's Crime" was brought out here last evening, for the purpose of giving Mr. HOLSTON, now a member of the stock company here, a chance of showing his metal. The piece is well known, having been played last season with success at the Olympic Theatre. Mr. HOLSTON plays the part of a pettifoging attorney, who in the complications of the story becomes acquainted with a will involving the entire estate of the stage. He is a cringing, contemptible fellow, and is so depicted by the actor. The drunken scene of the second act was given most amusingly, and in the third act Mr. HOLSTON displayed real power. He was frequently recalled before the curtain. Miss MADELINE HENRIQUES, as the self-sacrificing Miriam, was thoroughly admirable, pressing the part with singular neatness and propriety, looking it to a charm, and acting throughout with the nicest feeling. Mr. CHARLES FISHER as Scumley was good, and Mr. WILLIAMSON as an Irishman, who won't acknowledge the fact, was funny. Mr. NORTON did not know his part, and in consequence nearly spoiled the principal situation of the second act.

The "King and the Comedian," a capital and petite comedy, was the afterpiece. It served the useful purpose of introducing Mr. MARK SMITH and Mr. YOUNG to their friends. Mr. GILBERT played admirably as the real King, and was very well supported by the gentlemen we have named and Mrs. JENNINGS and Miss IONE BURKE. Both pieces will be repeated on Wednesday.

BLIND TOM.—"Blind Tom," now giving concerts in this city, is certainly an extraordinary creature. The loss of sight is not the least of the poor fellows misfortunes. He has also lost his reason. The surprise excited by many of his musical tricks is only equaled by the pain which any human person must experience in knowing that this is the last glimmering of intelligence left to him. TOM is by no means a remarkable piano-forte player. He hammers the instrument with infinite glee, and seems to be most pleased when making the greatest noise. But his temperament is exceptionally musical, and imitative to an extraordinary degree. Thus if any one sits down to the piano and plays a piece of music, he will at once paraphrase it, preserving the melodic coloring of the original and some of its form; he will tell you what notes are struck in any chord or discord; and more remarkable still, can play one tune with his right hand, another with his left, whilst singing a third. This feat was performed in a singular manner, yesterday afternoon. After indulging in the three melodies, according to the formula just given, he changed the key of each, and actually sang and played "Yankee Doodle" in A flat, "Fisher's Hornpipe" in A, and "Tramp, tramp, tramp" in G! The boy, like all blind folk has an excellent memory, and the slightest circumstance serves to recal former associations. On hearing the first few notes of a piece of music which had been played to him five years ago, he at once shouted out the name of the performer—remembering him in all probability by his touch.

Whilst playing, blind TOM throws his head back in a sort of unpleasant ecstacy, and makes many grimaces that are anything but pleasant. All his wits are evidently in music.

THE KEANS IN BROOKLYN.—Mr. and Mrs. CHARLES KEAN appeared to a tremendous house last night at the Academy of Music. To-night they reappear, giving the "Merchant of Venice," with an admirable cast.

THE NON-EXCHANGE OF PRISONERS—WHO WAS RESPONSIBLE.—Gen. HITCHCOCK, one of the Union Commissioners for the exchange of prisoners of war, has published another letter in vindication of Secretary STANTON. The General denies, in the most positive terms, that the Secretary of War ever refused, as has been charged, to exchange man for man, officer for officer, according to grade. He asserts that no proposition to that effect was ever received from Judge OULD, or his superiors. The Confederates persistently refused to exchange colored soldiers on any account, and our government, as a matter of principle, could not disown its settled policy by consenting to any proposition of abandoning the colored troops to their fate. The colored troops captured by the Confederates numbered five thousand, and not a few hundred, as reported. It was only at the last stages of the rebellion that the Richmond leaders modified their views by consenting to exchange free colored men. The government would not and could not abandon the protection of the whole army employed in its defence.

Gen. HITCHCOCK says:

The only order suspending the delivery of rebel prisoners, ever known to me, was given by the President himself, and that was done the moment it was known that the rebels themselves—I mean their President—had himself virtually set aside the cartel for exchanges, in order, as Mr. DAVIS declared, to subject a certain class of Federal officers, to be tried as criminals before Southern State courts, under State laws, for the punishment of the crime of exciting servile insurrection. If any one is disposed to object to that order, let him, if he dares, assail the memory of the sainted author of it. The rebels, on their part, were opposed to making exchanges man for man, after we held an excess over them, because it was their object to draw from us that excess to place it in the army of Gen. LEE, without returning to us an effective body of men in exchange. They insisted upon this, on the ground that the cartel required it; although when they thought it was to their interest, they did not hesitate to violate the cartel, thus absolving us from the observance of it.

FROM WASHINGTON.

Special Dispatches to the New-York Times.

THE GOVERNMENT TAX ON COTTON.

WASHINGTON, Monday Oct. 9.

The Secretary of the Treasury will issue, to-morrow, with all the necessary forms, the circular heretofore referred to in these dispatches, providing that payment of government tax and charges on cotton be made hereafter in the port to which it may be shipped instead of the point from which the cotton is sent. The ports named to which such shipment and payment may be made are New-York, Philadelphia, Boston, Baltimore, New-Orleans, Cairo, and St. Louis.

THE BALTIMORE CUSTOM-HOUSE.

WM. H. WOODBURY, special agent of the Treasury Department, has gone to Baltimore to examine into the affairs of the Custom-house in that city, to ascertain what, if any, reforms can be effected in the management of the government affairs. A similar investigation will be made into the affairs of the Custom-houses in New-York, Philadelphia, Boston, etc.

CIRCULAR FROM THE QUARTERMASTER-GENERAL.

The following circular from the Quartermaster-General's office will be issued to-morrow:

"It has been decided that in sales of railroad running stock and of vessels and boats by the Quartermaster's Department at public auction, that railroad companies to whom the Quartermaster's Department owes money for transportation services, shall be allowed to bid with the understanding that the amount of their purchases not exceeding the amount actually acknowledged to be due to them by the Quartermaster's Department, as shown by vouchers duly certified by officers of this department, may be charged to them in the statement of their accounts instead of requiring the payment of the money in cash at the time of sale. It is also decided that in all such sales of material of transportation by railroad or by water, duly certified and examined vouchers for transportation services shall be received as cash at their full face value."

SPORT IN WASHINGTON.

The first game of the tourney took place to-day on the President's grounds, in the presence of an assemblage of spectators numbering from four to five thousand, the contestants being the Excelsior and National nines. The Nationals had an excellent nine out on the occasion, but did not play up to the mark of their game with the Atlantics. The Excelsiors, however, were minus four or five of their best players, and owing to the non-arrival of their club chest, they had neither shoes, caps or uniform, and therefore were not in trim to win a match. The weather was delightful, just the thing for ball play, and the game being well contested, the match proved to be a very interesting one. The Excelsiors playing far better than their friends anticipated considering the obstacles that were in the way of their success. The Nationals gained the lead in the first innings, and maintained it all the way through. At the close of the fourth innings, the totals stood twenty-two to eight in favor of the Nationals, but in the five remaining innings the Excelsiors pulled up handsomely. Some excellent fielding was shown by FLETCHER, MCCULLOUGH, FLANLEY and MITCHELL in their several positions, but it was mainly in stopping balls from the bat, the throwing to bases of nearly all being very poor. BRAINARD's pitching was quite effective in the majority of innings, but in the fourth the Nationals punished him badly for sixteen runs. On the National side J. BERTRONG's catching was quite a feature of the game; PARKER's play, being the next best display. MITCHELL and MCCUNLOUGH led the game on the Excelsior side, and PARKER and GERMAN on the part of the Nationals. Mr. DAKIN, of the Excelsior Club, was selected as Umpire, he having acted very satisfactorily in the two matches of the previous tournament.

The Excelsiors gracefully acknowledged their defeat and their gentlemanly demeanor, and above all, the absence of any grumbling at errors, was a commendable feature of the match. To-morrow, Tuesday, the Excelsiors become the guests of the Pastime Club, and play them a game at Baltimore; the Nationals playing the Enterprise Club on the President's grounds here, the latter game being the second of the tourney.

Just as the President was about to leave for the gounds for a brief visit, the arrival of a cabinet officer prevented his departure.

The assemblage of ladies was one of the most fashionable gatherings of the kind this season. A clean field was preserved by a detachment of the Veteran Reserve Corps, and everything passed off very pleasantly. In the evening the Excelsiors were escorted to the National Hotel, where a splendid entertainment was prepared, a social time being had during the remainder of the evening.

The following is the score of the INNINGS.

	1st.	2d.	3d.	4th.	5th.	6th.	7th.	8th.	9th.
Excelsior	2	3	0	3	8	4	3	6	1	1—30
National	3	1	5	16	4	3	4	1	2	2—39

Fly catches—Excelsior, 11; Nationals, 11.
Time of game—3 hours 30 minutes.

The Excelsiors will play the Athletics in Philadelphia, on Wednesday, at 1 P. M., they having accepted the invitation sent them by the Philadelphians.

RAILROADS IN THE SOUTH.

The through railroad route from Washington to Lynchburgh, Knoxville, Chattanooga and Atlanta, and thence to Augusta or Montgomery, is now open, and communication perfect. The schedule time for making the trip from Chattanooga to Washington is sixty hours. Mr. BROWNELL, Vice-President of the East Tennessee and Virginia line, arrived in this city this evening, on his way north to purchase additional rolling stock and fixtures for putting the road in working order. At present the speed on some parts of the line is very slow, but this will be increased as soon as the track is thoroughly repaired.

THE FREEDMAN'S BUREAU AND GOV. SHARKEY.

The Freedmen's Bureau is in receipt of a copy of a letter from Gov. SHARKEY, of Mississippi, to Col. THOMAS, Assistant Commissioner of Freedmen for that State, in reply to an inquiry of that officer in regard to the freedmen and their management. The Governor says:

"I have no hesitation in stating to you that, as a necessary result from the action of the convention, in my opinion the freedmen can now sue and be sued in any court in the State; and, as an incident to their right to protection of person and property, which are fully guaranteed by the amended constitution, that they are competent to testify in any court of justice. Their rights, I think, are fully established by the convention which abolishes the whole system of slavery, and, as a matter of course, any measure of policy which grew out of that system."

SEA ISLAND PROPERTY.

WM. HENRY PRESCOTT, formerly Assistant Secretary of State with Gen. CASS, is in the city, seeking the restoration of some Sea Island property now in possession of the freedmen. He has taken the oath of allegiance, but claims not to come within any of the excepted classes.

INTERNAL REVENUE RECEIPTS.

The receipts for internal revenue to-day are $1,488,498 36.

PERSONAL.

Capt. JOHN J. HOFF, one of the best and most experienced officers in the Commissary department, has been ordered to report to Gen. HOWARD, and has been assigned to duty as Superintendent of the Substistance of the Freedmen of Alexandria, Fairfax and Loudon Counties. He will continue in charge of the Soldiers' Rest at Alexandria.

RECEPTION OF COLORED TROOPS.

The First United States Colored troops, which arrived yesterday, will be feasted at Campbell Hospital to-morrow, and then mustered out by Maj. WILBUR. They return a fine, stalwart, swarthy set of veterans 700 strong.

PARDON-SEEKERS.

The throng at the President's house to-day was absolutely reduced to a score or less, and the patience of the Executive was but lightly trespassed upon. No pardons were granted to-day, and the diminution in the numbers of pardon-seekers is really remarkable.

Dispatches to the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Monday, Oct. 9.

THE REBEL RAM STONEWALL.

The United States steamers Rhode Island and Hornet, the latter formerly known as the blockade-runner Lady Stirling, have been ordered to proceed to Havana, to convey to Washington the rebel ram Stonewall, heretofore surrendered to the United States by the Spanish authorities. The assignment of the Rhode Island to this duty disposes of the oft-repeated report that it was fitting out to convey President JOHNSON to North Carolina and other Southern ports.

THE NAVAL TRIALS.

All the trials between the Algonquin and the Winooski, as recommended by civilians and experts, will be carried out by the Navy Department, even should the entire Winter be thus consumed.

THE PARIS EXHIBITION.

There is authority for announcing that J. C. DERBY, Esq., the United States Dispatch Agent at New-York, will act as the agent there of persons who may wish to send articles to the Paris Exhibition of next year.

SECRETARY SEWARD AND THE FENIAN MOVEMENT.

The English story that Mr. SEWARD gave the notice to Great Britain of the Fenian movements concerning Ireland continues to excite comment in the Secretary's absence. But it is not credited by those who are presumed to be in a position to give it an unequivocal denial.

NO POLITICAL TAXES ON GOVERNMENT WORKMEN.

It is believed that the principles, as recently applied in the Navy-yards by Secretary WELLES, forbidding an assessment or tax on the workmen for party purposes, will be applied to all the other departments of the government.

JEFF. DAVIS' CAPTURED TREASURE.

The treasure captured among JEFFERSON DAVIS' effects has been counted at the Treasury Department. It amounts to $87,878 in gold, mostly old coinage; $8,822 in silver; 146 pieces of foreign coin, gold and silver, (value not yet estimated,) and 56 bricks of silver, weighing over five pounds each, the estimated value of which is $100 each. The value of the whole is somewhere over $100,000.

ALABAMA STATE CONVENTION.

The Proceedings Drawing to a Close.

From Our Own Correspondent.

FIFTEENTH DAY.

MONTGOMERY, Ala., Thursday, Sept. 28,1865.

The convention met at the usual hour, and, having agreed to adjourn sine die on Saturday next, proceeded to business. Members, naturally, about this time, are skirmishing for their little payments; and as the State of Alabama is in a bad state, financially speaking, some of the members, who are in favor of getting all they can, occasioned no little merriment by their remarks. One delegate wondered how Alabama could pay her servants $50,000 for their services when there was no money in the treasury and credit weak. It was moved to make the pay of members about the rate of board at the first-class hotels, washing not thrown in, when a delegate jumped up and announced that he could have made more money selling ginger cakes. There can be no doubt but that retrenchment is absolutely necessary in this and other Southern States that have been in secession, as Confederate bonds are about all the funds they have in their treasuries. It was finally resolved to make the following settlement:

Resolved, That the President of the convention receive for his services ten dollars per day; delegates, each, six dollars per day; Secretary, eight dollars; Assistant Secretary, six dollars; Clerk to the Committee to arrange and transcribe the Constitution, eight dollars; door-keeper, six dollars; pages, each, two dollars per day.

The President and members are also to receive eight dollars for every twenty miles of travel in going to and returning from the seat of government to the seat of justice in the counties of their residence, computing the distance according to act of the Legislature of 1859-60. It was further resolved that the pay of officers and the pay of delegates to this convention shall be the pay of officers and members of the next General Assembly of the State of Alabama. Probate Judges and magistrates shall receive for administering registration oath and furnishing duplicate to each person thirty cents. Gov. PARSONS was authorized to procure a loan of fifty thousand dollars for the purpose of compensating the officers and others specified above. It is said that Mr. JOHN WHITNEY has already borrowed that amount in the North.

The special business of this morning was called up at 11 o'clock. The report of the Committee on Constitutional Amendments came up first, and Mr. WEBB, the chairman, reported it was inexpedient to refer back to the people for ratification or rejection all amendments to the constitution of a general character, and asked to be discharged from the further consideration of the subject.

This was debated upon at considerable length, and several fifteen minute speeches were made.

Mr. CLARK declared that he was particularly in favor of referring the amendments to the constitution back to the people for ratification or rejection. He remarked that if it was referred back, it would then be ratified or rejected, and would show whether the people were in favor of the action of the convention or not. He urged the convention to recollect what transpired in 1861, and urged the fact that—and it was admitted by members who supported the report—had the ordinance of secession been referred back to the people for ratification or rejection, it would have been rejected.

The ground taken by the members who favored the report was, that it was too short a time before the election, and that the people had all they could attend to in voting for Governor, members of legislature, judges of courts, &c., &c., and further stated that the people who had sent them to convention had full confidence in their acts, and were prepared to acquiesce in all the ordinances they should pass.

The gentlemen opposed to the adoption of the report took the ground that their constituents not only expected that the amendments to the constitution would be submitted to them for ratification or rejection, but that they (the delegates) had pledged themselves to vote to submit to the consideration of the people all important acts of the convention.

Quite an exciting debate occurred, on the whole, when the question was put, and the convention adopted the report by a vote of 61 to 25. Several members stated that they had promised to vote that the amendments to the constitution should be submitted to the people for ratification or rejection, but that they would take the responsibility and vote for the report.

The next question was upon the repudiation of the Confederate war debts, which, without eliciting any debate, was decided upon, by a vote of 60 to 19. No other important measures are before the Convention and it will adjourn sine die on Saturday.

BENJ. C. TRUMAN.

The Pirate Shenandoah.

DESTRUCTION OF WHALERS.

From the Hawaiian Gazette, Aug. 12.

The whaleships James Mauray, Richmond, and Joseph Maxwell, have arrived, and by them we have learned of the probable destruction of the whole whaling fleet by the Confederate pirate Shenandoah. Below we give the names of the vessels burnt up to the time of the Mauray's departure.

Burnt.—Isabella, Euphrates, Gen. Williams, Jireh Swift, Wm. Thompson, Abigail, Sophia Thornton, Gypsey, Catherine, Coral, Wm. C. Nye, Nimrod, Susan Abigail, Congress 2d, Hillman, Martha 2d, Nassau, Favorite, Covington, Isaac Howland, Waverley—total 22.

Bonded.—Bark Nile, FISH, sailed for San Francisco; ship Milo, HAWS, do.; ship James Mauray, COVINGTON, arrived at Honolulu, Aug. 11, with 150 men from the destroyed whalers; ship Gen. Pike, sailed for San Francisco.

At the time of the Mauray's departure from the Arctic Ocean, (July 14,) there were four vessels burning; but they were too far off to be distinguished.

On the 28th of June, the ship Brunswick, was stoven by the ice. After having a survey, she was abandoned and left to the mercy of Capt. WADDELL, whose magnanimity was becoming very popular among the whaling Captains. June 28, Capt. GRAY, of the whaleship James Murray, died of dropsy.

The ships burnt by the Shenandoah, at Ascension, were the Harvest, the Pearl, and the Hector, the particulars of which will be found in the account per Milo at San Francisco.

GREAT EARTHQUAKE IN CALIFORNIA.

Two Tremendous Shocks within Half a Minute.

All the Bells in San Francisco Set Ringing by the Motion.

Trifling Injury to Property, and No Lives Lost.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sunday, Oct. 8.

At 12.45 o'clock to-day the severest earthquake ever felt here frightened almost the entire population of the city out of their houses into the streets. During half a minute there were two tremendous shocks, which caused buildings to rock to and fro in a manner altogether alarming.

Services were over in most of the churches. The large congregation of the Unitarian Church was being dismissed when the shock commenced; ladies shrieked, all pushed for the doors faster than they could be accommodated with exit. Similar scenes took place at St. Mary's Cathedral, and at some other churches and Sunday-schools. The rush was so great from the Catholic church on Vallejo-street, that the large doors to the main entrance were carried away, and several persons were injured by being trampled upon.

The walls of many buildings were cracked in many places; and it surprises every one that large stately edifices like the Occidental and Cosmopolitan Hotels and other buildings of that class were not generally more seriously injured. More or less plastering fell from perhaps half the ceilings of the city. The cornices and fire-walls fell from many buildings.

The entire front of a tour-story brick building, just erected on Third-street, fell outward, covering about half of that wide street with fragments. One independently constructed chimney of the Lick House fell, and crushed through the roof of the dining-room, coming down upon the tables and dishes, to the astonishment of the boarders, who were taking lunch. Three of the servants were injured,

Two Chinamen were badly injured by the falling of a fire-wall on Jackson-street. The City Hall bell commenced ringing on account of the vibration of the tower. The interior walls of the building were much broken up.

Fissures two or three inches wide were opened in the ground in the lower part of the city, where it is made land; and some of this ground was elevated many inches above its former level.

Brief accounts from Sacramento, Stockton and San Jose represent the shock as the severest ever felt in these cities. It was not felt at Marysville nor at Placerville; but the town of Santa Cruz was shocked with great severity, some brick buildings suffering much damage, and two being destroyed.

SAN FRANCISCO, Monday, Oct. 9.

The damage by the earthquake yesterday will amount to considerable in the aggregate, many houses needing new walls, new plastering, and repairing broken windows. The City Hall is damaged in the front wall to the extent that a portion must be rebuilt at a cost of several thousand dollars. The old Merchant's Exchange building, opposite the Custom-house, will probably require rebuilding. No really substantial and well-constructed building was seriously damaged. Santa Cruz felt the shock more severely than any other town of the State. Several brick houses were so badly damaged that partial reconstruction will be necessary. A dispatch from there says there was a general tumble-down of chimneys, and those left standing are turned partially around. The motion was apparently from east to west. The ground along the river opened in fissures and spouted water like Geysers. The people are unable to use some of the wells, which are either dry or filled with sand.

A chimney at the powder-mills was thrown down, and other injury was done to the works. A portion of the walls of the new hotel was thrown down, but the foundation is still firm. The smash in the drug and other stores was great.

Some very narrow escapes from falling chimneys are reported.

The tide rose very high at the time of the shock, and fell very low immediately afterward. Ten or eleven distinct shocks were felt since the first shock up to 5 o'clock this morning, as well as a number of slighter visitations.

It is estimated that the losses will amount to $10.000 and may exceed that sum.

Dates from Honolulu have been received up to the 16th of September. The war steamer Saranac arrived there on the 6th. Nothing had been heard of the Shenandoah.

From Fortress Monroe.

FORTRESS MONROE, Sunday, Oct. 8.

The steam revenue cutter Kankakee arrived this morning, towing the schooner Hannah Matilda, from Baltimore, with loss of sails.

The propeller U. S. Grant, from Port Royal October 3d for New York, put in here short of coal.

Gen. DYER arrived to-day from Washington, to inspect the guns in the Arsenal here.

A man was found in Hampton yesterday in a dying condition, and was taken to the hospital, where he soon died. The name, "S. VINSON," was marked on his arm. The case will be investigated.

The steamer A. Winants left for New-York, and steamer George Appold for Boston, to-day.

Fire in St. Louis.

ST. LOUIS, Monday, Oct. 9.

The drug-store of PERICK & LOVING and the Queens warehouse of H. B. KETCHUM, in St. Joseph, was burned on Thursday. The loss of the former was $60,000, and of the latter $40,000. This is mostly insured in Eastern companies. Considerable injury was also sustained by removing goods from an adjoining store, and the tearing down of an adjoining wooden building to stop the progress of the flames.

Loss of Life in Bangor.

BANGOR, Me., Monday, Oct. 9.

Mrs. CARLETON S. BRAGG, the wife of one of our prominent business men, was run over last week and so badly injured as to cause her death in thirty-six hours. The person who was driving the horse and buggy, by which she was run over, has been arrested on the charge of manslaughter and bound over for trial in the sum of $4,000. The allegation is "fast and careless driving."

Death of Nathaniel D. Hubbard, of Boston.

BOSTON, Monday, Oct. 9.

The Board of Brokers adjourned from to-day to Wednesday, in respect to the memory of NATHANIEL D. HUBBARD, a highly esteemed member of the board, who died suddenly on Saturday of disease of the heart.

New Steamship Line between Boston and Cuba.

BOSTON, Monday, Oct. 9.

The steamer Ionawanda cleared to-day for Havana, with a full freight and 21 passengers, and also with the United States mails. She is the pioneer of the new steamship line between Boston and Cuba.

The Mississippi State Constitution.

The Louisville Democrat publishes the following correspondence without stating where it was procured:

EXECUTIVE OFFICE, JACKSON, Miss., Aug. 28.

Hon. William H. Seward, Secretary of State:

SIR: I have the honor to lay before you a copy of the constitution of Mississippi as amended, together with copies of the several ordinances adopted, which I hope will be satisfactory. Respectfully, your obedient servant, W. L. SHARKEY.

To which the Secretary of State replied:

To His Excellency William L. Sharkey, Provisional Governor of the State of Mississippi, Jackson:

SIR: Your letter of the 28th ult., accompanied by a copy of the amended constitution of Mississippi, as adopted by the recent convention of the State, has been received and will engage the early attention of the President. I have the honor to be, your Excellency's obedient servant, W. H. SEWARD.

STATE DEPARTMENT, WASHINGTON, Sept. 4.

To His Excellency John A. Andrew, Governor of the State of Massachusetts:

SIR: I have the honor to inclose the within constitution of Mississippi, and beg to know if it is satisfactory to your State, which, being the only "Anti-slavery" State when the Union was formed, has, of course, the right to decide on the new constitution, which the wisdom, virtue and valor of your State have forced the less enlightened State of Mississippi to adopt. With great respect, W. H. SEWARD.

GOV. ANDREW'S REPLY.

EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT, BOSTON, Mass., Wednesday, Sept. 6.

Wm. L. Garrison, Esq.:

SIR: As you started the grand "anti-slavery enterprise," thirty years ago, and, even more than JOHN BROWN or ABRAHAM LINCOLN, are its prophet and embodiment, and as the Secretary of State is waiting to reply to the Governor of Mississippi in regard to the new constitution of that State, I beg you will examine the inclosed, and reject or ratify it at your earliest convenience. Yours, &c. JOHN A. ANDREW, Governor of Massachusetts.

MR. GARRISON'S REPLY.

BOSTON, Thursday, Sept. 7.

His Excellency, Gov. J. A. Andrew:

SIR: I have carefully examined the within constitution of Mississippi, and though it does not fully embody my "ideas," it is best perhaps not to "crowd the mourners" just now, and therefore I consent to ratify it, with the confident assurance that the "Freedmen's Bureau" will prepare the negroes for amalgamation or extermination, and thus close up the great work forever. Yours, &c., WILLIAM L. GARRISON.

The Franklin Expedition—Capt. Hall's Statement.

LETTER FROM W. PARKER SNOW.

To the Editor of the New-York Times:

The extraordinary statement made by C. F. HALL, from Hudson's Bay, which has been published in the papers, will be widely circulated all over the civilized world. Therefore, with your permission, I will make a few remarks on the subject.

It is well known that I have devoted the last fifteen years of my life to the closest study of the Franklin mystery, and have been several hundred miles beyond HALL, and within 300 miles of the locality of the missing navigators. I have also thrice attempted new expeditions of relief, at ruinous cost to myself. Consequently, I am entitled to some credit, when I assert what I am about to do.

I had partly expected Mr. HALL would have returned this Fall, and I kept silent during his absence; but, as he now sends a statement which cannot fail to electrify the minds of all friends of the lost expedition, I feel bound to openly express my doubts of the whole affair. The report is too sensational and too vague; and, though I find the Evening Post has paraded it with high eulogistic matter, all the while knowing that HALL's doings are simply working upon my brains, and following up my plans long ago marked down and in his possession, I still must urge upon the public great caution in the matter. Indeed, his whole statement is but an almost literal reading of my published ideas in 1860. A pamphlet issued by me in London, and a paper I read before the Oxford meeting of the British Association for the Advancement of Science, contains essentially what he now puts forth—especially as to CROZIER and the locality of Neitchillee. It, therefore, his statement is true, it gives to me a gift of something like extraordinary second sight.

Before HALL's departure, last year, a letter of mine appeared in the press (about June 7) far stronger than anything I say now. Moreover, I appealed to his committee to investigate, before any body of scientific men the whole of what he said he had done. No notice was taken. He himself never would meet a public inquiry, but took his departure, not issuing the work he has claimed to be the author of, though written by me, until he had gone.

Mr. HALL seems to be remarkable for making great discoveries—though with no white man's testimony to back him—where previous voyagers of experience and well-known fame had failed. His "Frobisher Discoveries," and now the Franklin mystery seems more than singular when submitted to the calm test of a close analytical examination; particularly when his statements closely duplicate what others have long before printed, and his footsteps cover the exact ground of such an experienced Arctic traveler as Dr. RAE, in 1854. It is possible he may be correct, and it will be a proud day for me to find that after so many years labor, and such an expenditure in the cause, all my reasoning, my arguments, and ideas were literally correct. But how can I be otherwise than doubtful of everything coming from the mere unsupported assertion of one who can give to the world, and receive credit for as his own, without the slightest acknowledgement to the real author, a book, maps, charts and scientific papers sent to the geographical societies, written and compiled—partly from his voluminous but irregular journals, and partly from private manuscripts of my own, by

Yours respectfully, W. PARKER SNOW,

Nyack, N. Y., Oct. 2, 1865.

A DUTY.—The preservation of health is a duty we owe not only to ourselves, but also to those who may be dependent upon us, to those with whom we may be associated as relatives or friends. With a due consideration for this, those afflicted with dyspepsia, nervous debility, weakness of the stomach or digestive organs, will find a never-failing remedy in Hoofland's German Bitters, which can be had of any druggist. They are not a substitute for rum.—Philadelphia Evening Bulletin.

H. T. HELMBOLD, druggist, No. 594 Broadway, New-York, Agent.

THE TUNISIAN EMBASSY.—On Friday evening, at the Fair of the American Institute, Gen. OTHERAN HASHEM, Special Envoy of His Highness the Bey of Tunis, was presented by H. H. SUPLEE, No. 537 Broadway, with a beautiful Elliptic Sewing-machine, which he had very much admired. The General expressed himself as more than thankful for this attention. The machine will remain a short time on exhibition at the fair.

You cannot annihilate the fragrance of PHALON'S "Night-Blooming Cereus" by exposing a robe or handkerchief perfumed with it to the air. Time only renders the aroma more delicate and spirituel. Washing alone removes it.—New-Albany Ledger.

The Horrors of Indigestion.

You complain of your stomach, unfortunate dyspeptic; but ought not your stomach to complain of you? Possibly the pangs you endure are simply the stomach's method of taking revenge upon you for neglecting and abusing it. Perhaps you have never made an effort to improve its condition, but on the other hand are continually cramming it with unwholesome and incongruous food. Have you ever tried HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS, a proper diet, and regular meals? The Bitters in a week would put your digestive appa-atus in perfect order, regulate the flow of bile in accordance with the laws of health, and produce just so much aperient action as would be necessary for your good; and when you were once all right, judicious and regular dieting, with a little of the Tonic now and then, would keep you so. If you have neglected these means of cure, don't blame your stomach for its rebellion. It is merely nature's hint that she wants help. If you neglect it, the next thing may be Inflammation, or Scirrhus Cancer, or some other violent and dangerous disease. There is such a thing as being too late in these matters. HOSTETTER'S BITTERS will cure Dyspepsia; but Dyspepsia may engender diseases which defy all restoratives.

PROPOSALS FOR FUNDING
CERTIFICATES OF INDEBTEDNESS, COMPOUND INTEREST NOTES AND TREASURY NOTES.

TREASURY DEPARTMENT,
WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 29, 1865.

By virtue of the authority contained in the first section of an act of Congress entitled "An Act to provide ways and means to support the Government," approved March 3, 1865, which provides, among other things, that any Treasury Notes, or other obligations bearing interest issued under any act of Congress, may, at the discretion of the Secretary of the Treasury, and with the consent of the holder, be converted into any description of bonds authorized by said act, notice is hereby given to the holders of Certificates of Indebtedness which mature before the 1st day of January next, of Compound Interest Notes, and of one and two year Treasury Notes, of the readiness of this department to give in exchange for them, to the extent of fifty millions of dollars, six per cent. Five-Twenty Year Bonds at three per cent. premium: that is to say, one hundred dollars of bonds for each one hundred and three dollars in certificates and notes; provided the conversion is made prior to the 1st day of November next.

The bonds issued in exchange for such certificates and notes will bear an interest of six per cent. per annum, payable semi-annually in coin upon the first days of May and November, and will be redeemable at the pleasure of the government after five years, and payable in twenty years from the first day of November, 1865.

The coupon and registered bonds issued under this proposal will be of the denominations of one hundred, five hundred and one thousand dollars. Registered bonds of five thousand and ten thousand dollars will be issued if desired.

Holders of certificates, compound interest or Treasury notes, who desire to make such conversions, will deliver them to the Treasurer, the Assistant Treasurers or the designated depositaries of the United States, or to any national depositary bank which may consent to transact the business without charge.

Interest will be allowed on certificates of indebtedness, and one and two-year Treasury notes matured or maturing prior to the first of November, 1865, up to the date of maturity, and when maturing after the first of November, interest will be allowed to that day.

Upon the compound interest notes the interest will be computed to November 1, 1865, upon the amount of principal and interest compounded on the back of said notes, from the period next prior to that date.

The principal and interest of such Treasury Notes and obligations will be considered together as an offer for conversion, but when, after deducting the principal of the Bonds, and three per cent. premium, there remains a fractional part of one hundred dollars, this fractional part will be paid to the depositor.

The Secretary reserves to himself the right of withdrawing this proposal at any time prior to said first day of November, provided fifty millions of dollars shall, prior to that date, be offered for conversion as aforesaid.

Circulars of instructions will be transmitted to the various officers authorized to receive certificates and notes, to which attention is invited.

H. McCULLOCH, Secretary of the Treasury.

THE POLICE COURTS.

The Tombs—Before Justice Dowling.

AN EXAMPLE.

Justice DOWLING's is not the only court that has been infested by a class of loungers who have brought discredit upon our criminal judiciary; but it is the first that has sought to rid itself of these pests by the publication of a notice like the following, which was posted in the Tombs yesterday:

CAUTION.

POLICE COURT, FIRST DISTRICT, HALLS OF JUSTICE, NEW-YORK, Sept. 27, 1865.

Persons doing business in this court are cautioned against parties who are commonly known as "Tombs Skinners," who are in the habit of obtaining money from strangers for services which they do not and cannot perform. No money whatever is required for the issuing of any process from this court.

JOSEPH DOWLING, Police Justice.

THE VALUE OF EXPERIENCED OFFICERS.

On Saturday afternoon, Capt. JOHN JOURDAN, of the Sixth Police Precinct, observed one MARGARET REDDING walking up Wooster-street as though she had been lamed; but knowing her, and suspecting that she had been performing one of her old tricks, he took her to the Franklin-street Police-station, and found in a large bag, under her skirts, two mink collars, one mink circular, and one mink half-cape, all of the value of $260. The prisoner, who is variously known as MARGARET REDDING, MARY ANN WHEELER, and "Irish Mag," refused the captain any information, and he therefore committed her to a cell and made inquiry at the Broadway and other fur stores, and ascertained, yesterday morning, that the goods had been stolen from Mr. GEORGE A. BRYDEN'S warehouse, at No. 375 Broadway. "Mag" is keeper of one of the brothels that pollute the atmosphere of Houston-street. In default of $2,000 bail she was committed for trial.

Jefferson Market—Before Justice Ledwith.

KLEPTOMANIA.

A Western merchant came hither with his wife last week, and on Saturday the wife went out shopping. She had money in abundance, but unluckily preferred to get a common hood at Mr. STEWART'S, not by purchase. She was arrested and taken to Jefferson Market Police Court, and committed until the complainant, one of Mr. STEWART'S clerks, could summon the husband to give the required bail. This the husband could not do, as he had no real property in this county; and rather than disclose her situation to her opulent relatives in this city, who could have bailed her instanter, the woman went to the cells in Jefferson Market prison, and there remained until Sunday morning, when the matter leaked out, and bail was given.

Essex Market—Before Justice Mansfield.

THE COAT-MAKING FRAUD.

JACOB STRAUSS recently took from Mr. JOHN J. FUHRMANN, of No. 111 Second-street, six unmade coats, and represented that he dwelt at No. 64 Goerck-street. The garments were to have been made up and returned by Saturday, but as STRAUSS did not appear, at the time agreed upon, Mr. FUHRMANN made inquiry, and learned that STRAUSS resided at No. 119 Broome-street, and had sold the coats, yet unmade, to DAVID TOBIAS, of No. 544 Grand-street. TOBIAS was arrested and held to bail for receiving stolen goods, and STRAUSS was committed for trial.

OUT-DOOR SPORTS.

The National Game.

EMPIRE VS. ACTIVE.

The return game between the Empire and Active Clubs was played at Hoboken on Saturday last, in the presence of quite a large crowd of spectators, quite a number of whom were ladies. The first game between these clubs, which took place early in the season, resulted in the success of the Empires by a score of nearly two to one; but in this game the Actives turned the tables, beating the Empires 24 to 15 in a game of eight innings. KELLY, of the Actives, owing to a lame hand, played right field, and HATFIELD went behind, where he surpassed himself and astonished his friends by the manner in which he filled the position. WALKER was absent, and STOCKMAN pitched in the first part of the game, and EBBETTS in the latter part, and both did well. In fact, with all the changing about, the only weak positions in the nine were CRAWFORD at third and VANDERWERKEN at short. "Redman" was as usual, most effective at second, although ROONEY led the score, having four runs and one out, while "Redman" had four runs and two outs. The Empires were short two or three of their first nine—MILLER being particularly missed at the first base, and KELLY at second. Considering the strength of their nine, they made a very creditable display. WILSON led the score, and WATERMAN was next. Mr. BURNS, of the Mutuals, filled the position of umpire in a creditable manner, rendering very prompt and satisfactory decisions. The following is the score:

ACTIVE.	Outs.	Runs.	EMPIRE.	Outs.	Runs.

ATLANTIC VS. MUTUAL.

The second nines of these clubs were to have played their return game at Hoboken, yesterday, but owing to some (Mutual) misunderstanding it did not come off. The Atlantics were on hand, but the Mutuals were not, in full force; and inasmuch as the game had not been announced in a proper manner, it was considered off. But the Brooklynites were determined to play ball, so a "muffin" or "scrub" game was proposed, and when all the names were down, it was found that they had sixteen first nine, second nine and "muffins" on a side, all nicely sandwiched together, ZELLER being captain on one side and MCMAHON on the other. Fun, lager-bier, and the best of good feeling predominated, and after playing till it was dark, "time was called, when it was found that the score stood 20 to 12, MCMAHON'S side winning.

NEW-YORK POST-OFFICE VS. BROOKLYN.

The return match of the New-York Post-office clerks, carriers, &c., against the Brooklyn Post-office clerks, &c., will take place to-morrow, on the Capitoline baseball grounds, Brooklyn, at 2 o'clock in the afternoon. In the first game, which took place on the 12th of September, the New-Yorkers won. Postmaster LINCOLN was present when that game was played, and it is expected that both Messrs. LINCOLN and KELLY will witness this game. The New-York clerks will be carried to Brooklyn in two large express wagons.

TIMES VS. TRIBUNE.

The second game of base ball between the pressmen of the TIMES and Tribune offices, was played on the Mutual grounds, Hoboken, on Saturday last, resulting in favor of the TIMES' boys by a score of 51 to 45. The utmost good feeling was shown by the contestants, and the match proved a pleasant one. Below we give the score:

A part of the train will be specially appropriated for ladies.

Meeting of the Marine Society.

Yesterday afternoon the regular monthly meeting of the Marine Society was held in the Underwriters' Room, Wall-street, JOHN M. FERRIER, Vice-President, in the chair. After the minutes of the previous meeting had been read, the Vice-President announced that in consequence of the demise of the late President, CHARLES H. MARSHALL, a new President would have to be elected, and begged to offer the subjoined resolution, which was unanimously adopted:

Resolved, That this society do deeply and sincerely lament and deplore the decease of our esteemed and valued President, associate and friend, and that we cordially and tenderly sympathize with the greatly stricken and afflicted family and relatives of the deceased, and that we ask for them the blessing of Him who alone can bind up the broken in heart and comfort the afflicted in sorrow.

The balloting then took place, and JOHN M. FERRIER, formerly first Vice-President, was declared elected President, THOMAS DUNHAM, First Vice-President, and A. B. CLARKE, Second Vice-President.

The meeting then adjourned.

Both the above gentlemen were the lowest bidders, the first asking $15 30, the latter $700 for the necessary work.

Members of Water Witch Engine Company No. 10 are to be relieved from duty, and those in good standing to receive an honorable discharge.

Commissioner ENGS presented the following resolution, which was adopted:

Resolved, That a requisition be made upon the Comptroller of the city for $100,000, to be deposited with the City Chamberlain to the credit of this Department, on account of appropriations by the Board of Supervisors for the year 1865.

The board then adjourned till 11 o'clock Wednesday morning.

Movements of the Tunisian Ambassador.

A VISIT TO MAYOR GUNTHER, THE BROOKLYN NAVY-YARD AND THE OPERA.

Gen. OTMAN HASHEM, the Tunisian Ambassador, and his suite, accompanied by Mr. AMOS PERRY, Mrs. PERRY, Miss PERRY and Gen. HALL, paid a visit, yesterday morning, to Mayor GUNTHER, at the City Hall. The Mayor welcomed Gen. HASHEM most cordially, and said he was sure he only echoed the sentiments of the citizens of New-York when he proffered the hospitalities of the city to the representatives of Tunis. The General, through Mr. PERRY, who acted as interpreter, made an appropriate reply.

After a marriage ceremony, performed by the Mayor and witnessed by the Ambassador, who signed his name in Arabic characters, the party went to the Governor's room to view the pictures. The portrait of ACHMED BEN AHMED commanded much attention. He it was who in 1840 brought a present of a horse, &c., from the Imaum of Muscat to President VAN BUREN.

After bidding adieu to the Mayor, the party visited the Brooklyn Navy-yard, on invitation of Admiral BELL, now in command there. On the distinguished visitors entering the yard, a file of marines that were drawn up in line presented arms, and the drums rolled a welcome. Admiral BELL expressed his delight at the visit, and, after a short conversation, led the way with the Ambassador and his suite for an inspection of the grounds.

Of course, all points of interest were inspected. The ships on the stocks; the vast storehouses and commissary stores; the torpedo Midge, captured in Charleston Harbor, and the sloop-of-war Wampanoag, now on a fair way to completion. But the dry-dock, and the engine used for pumping the water out, elicited the warmest admiration. When told that this immense engine pumped out 1,600 gallons of water a stroke, and makes twelve strokes a minute, they could scarcely credit it, but being assured by Mr. PERRY that such really was the case, they lifted up their hands in wonderment at the inventive genius and mechanical skill of the Yankees.

In the evening they attended the Academy of Music, and listened with rapt attention to the melodies of "Il Trovatore."

The Italian Evening School.

The second annual commencement of the Italian Evening School, in Wooster-street, was celebrated last evening. Quite a large audience was present. After a duet, by Signors ERRANI and BARILI, the Italian Consul-General, the Duke DI LICIGNANO, delivered a short address in Italian. Mr. JAMES W. GERARD, School Inspector, was then introduced. He said it might seem strange that the Board of Education should countenance a school, the pupils of which retained their nationality; but he knew of no people so well entitled to consideration on this ground as the Italians. This country was discovered by an Italian, and his discoveries were followed up by his countrymen, CABOT and VESPUCCI. To an Italian we were indebted for the best history of the country that had ever been written. Mr. GERARD then spoke of the prospects of the school, which numbers about sixty adult pupils, and of the good that was being derived from it, and incited his audience to enthusiasm by speaking of the natural beauties of Italy and the many eminent names it had produced.

Mr. JAMES MILLER, School Commissioner, followed Mr. GERARD, giving some interesting statistics in relation to public schools and the cost of conducting them.

Mr. J. E. HEYWOOD made a brief speech, and was followed by Prof. MAGIN, Director of the School.

MRS. FARNHAM, Miss MARY NORTON and Signors ERRANI and BARILI sang several solos and duets during the evening, in excellent style, Signor ANTONIO BARILI presiding at the piano.

GENERAL CITY NEWS.

NEW POLICE STATION IN THE FIRST WARD.—The police force of the Twenty-seventh Precinct, or western half of the First Ward, have surrendered the cramped and dingy old dwelling which they occupied so many years in Cedar-street, and moved into fine, roomy quarters which the city has provided at No. 99 Liberty-street. This new police station, which is in many respects the finest in the city, is a Liberty-street wholesaling warehouse refitted. It is 100 feet in depth by 30 in width, and five stories high, with cellar and sub-cellar under the whole. On the ground-floor are the business office, a spacious and lofty apartment of about 60 by 30 feet, and the patrolmen's sitting-room, in the rear, a room of about 30 by 40 feet. In the cellar—a light and airy place, closely resembling a common English basement—are two large rooms for lodgers, and in the rear ten well-ventilated cells. The sub-cellar, a damp and noisome dungeon, contains two cells that ought never to be used. The second floor of the edifice contains handsome rooms for the accommodation of Capt. JOHN C. HELME and Sergeants ELIPHALET N. PECK, WILLIAM MCCLEARY, JAMES ROCKWELL and JACOB SIEBERT; and on the third and fourth floors are roomy apartments for the fifty-three subordinate officers of the precinct. The building, as refitted, cost the city about $60,000.

DISGRACEFUL SCENE IN A CHURCH.—A disgraceful scene occurred on Sunday, during the service in the Norfolk-street Methodist Church, (Rev. W. P. CORBETT'S.) The facts, as reported, are as follows: GARRETT KING, a man about 21 years of age, son of Mr. JOHN KING, an old resident of the Seventh Ward, having become noisy and indecorous in his pew, was reproved by Mr. ALANSON BRIGGS. After some words had passed, Mr. BRIGGS requested KING to leave the church; whereupon KING knocked him down, striking him twice. Mr. BRIGGS' daughter called upon the congregation to protect her father, and a scene of great confusion ensued. Finally KING was ejected from the church and put under arrest. Mr. BRIGGS, upon whom this outrageous assault was made, is one of the leading men in the Methodist Church in the Seventh Ward, and of advanced years.

CAPT. WALLING NOT A MURDERER.—The name of GEO. W. WALLING having been accidentally substituted in a newspaper paragraph for that of an alleged murderer whom Detective IRVING, of the Twentieth Ward, arrested on Saturday, it is proper to say that the arrest was made under Capt. WALLING'S direction, and that the Captain took his prisoner to the Liberty-street Police-station, and with Capt. HELME saw the accused off for Pittsburgh on Saturday evening. Captain HELME assures the TIMES that Capt. WALLING did not commit a murder while in the First Ward on Saturday afternoon, and that if he ever killed a human being it must have been while he was fighting in defence of the city during the memorable riots.

THE DRIVERS ON THE HARLEM ROAD.—The difficulty between the drivers of the four-horse cars on the Harlem Road, and the managers of the road, has been settled, the men receiving $2 25 per day instead of $2 00 as was proposed. One of the trains was detained, yesterday, about forty minutes in consequence of the disagreement.

An elaborately-carved mantel-piece of pure Carrara marble, will be disposed of during the sale, which will continue for two days.

DROWNED IN THE NORTH RIVER.—On Sunday evening HENRY MEDLEY, a colored cook and steward employed on the bark Jean Lithgens, of Halifax, N. S., fell overboard at the foot of West Tenth-street, and was drowned. The body has not been recovered.

ARREST OF ALLEGED COUNTERFEITERS.—On Sunday night a young man named JAMES MOORE, who says he is employed by the Tenth-avenue Railroad Company of New-York, was arrested by Officer LANGAN, of the Forty-fifth Precinct, on a charge of passing counterfeit fractional United States postal currency. On being taken to the station-house, bogus 50 cent stamps representing $10 in value, and $40 in good money was found on his person. During the night, MOORE intimated that a man named CHARLES G. SANDS, of No. 101 Spring-street, New-York, manufactured the bogus money which he had. Officers LANGAN and HILAIRE GUISCHARD, acting upon this information, went to New-York in search of SANDS, and before daylight arrested him at his residence. The officers searched the house, but found neither counterfeit money nor implements for its manufacture. A man named THOMAS MOONEY, in SANDS' company, was also arrested. One of the prisoners made a vigorous effort to escape but did not succeed. The three prisoners will be examined by United States Commissioner NEWTON.

NEW-JERSEY.

THE NEWARK ELECTION TO-DAY.—The Newark municipal election will be held to-day, and it is important, in view of the active canvass now going on in New-Jersey for the State election, that the Union men of Newark should roll up a heavy majority for their candidates for city offices. The gentlemen who have been nominated for these municipal positions are individually worthy of the hearty support of their constituents, regardless of the beneficial effect which their election will have on the pending State canvass, and we trust that no Union man entitled to vote will neglect this opportunity of performing a piece of practical patriotism. Residents of Newark, doing business in this city, of whom there are large numbers, should especially see to it that the Union candidates are not defeated through their remissness, in refusing to set aside their ordinary business for a short time in order to spend an hour or two at the polls. Vote early, and the prospect of victory is excellent.

Curious Divorce Suit—A Wife Obtains a Decree, and Seeks to Set it Aside—Has a Husband against whom Judgment is Entered for Adultery a Right to Marry again During the Lifetime of his First Wife?

SUPREME COURT—CHAMBERS—OCT. 5.

Before Justice Ingraham.

Gabriella Saelizer vs. Alexander Saelizer.—This was a motion made in behalf of the plaintiff to set aside a decree of divorce, entered in behalf of the plaintiff against the defendant on the 9th day of September, 1864. The notice of motion also seeks to obtain an order of the Supreme Court to refer the questions as to the amount of the defendant's property and the amount of alimony to which the plaintiff may be entitled, to a referee to examine and report. The facts and circumstances are peculiar, and in some aspects very remarkable. The plaintiff and defendant are Prussians by birth and education, and one of the parties, at least, as appears from the evidence, is descended from a noble family. About twenty-four years ago they were married, and lived together as husband and wife until some two years ago. The defendant is shown to have been for more than twenty years last past an architect of high repute, well skilled in his business, and by diligently pursuing his avocation in this city he had during that time succeeded in acquiring a comfortable independence. Latterly, however, the husband and wife, after twenty-one years of married life, did not live happily, and the unfortunate condition of their domestic affairs led in some way, and by some means, to the obtaining of a decree of divorce, which, as above stated, was entered against the husband on the 9th day of September, 1864, in the Supreme Court of this city.

It is now sought by the plaintiff to show, by numerous affidavits, that this decree was procured by collusion between the wife and husband; that the wife (plaintiff in the suit) for many years endured much ill treatment at the hands of her husband. Some of the affidavits show that he beat and bruised her in the most cruel manner; that she thought he was a monomaniac, and her friends so advised her: he often said he must get a divorce from her, that they could never live happily together; she consulted medical men on the subject, and they all concurred in saying that he was probably insane upon one subject, namely, the subject of getting a divorce from her. Meantime, as her witnesses show, she was very adverse to leaving him, although she knew he had not been faithful to his marriage vows; she wanted to do what she could to allay his excitement. She therefore proposed to her husband to have a divorce suit commenced in the Supreme Court of this city, in which she was to be the party plaintiff and he the defendant, the suit was to be merely in sport; she never designed or expected that it would culminate in an absolute decree. She did it, as she testifies, for the purpose of allaying his insane feelings on the subject. She asked her husband who she should apply to, and he directed her to go to his lawyer, a well-known practitioner on Broadway. She went; the suit was commenced, and the wife thought that was the end of it. She had done what her doctors and friends had advised her to do, for the purpose suggested, namely, of allaying his mono-maniaism, and thereby rendering him so tractable that thereafter it would be possible for her to cohabit with him. Sometime after the decree of absolute divorce had been entered, she was notified of it, to her very great surprise. The further fact appears that neither in the complaint of the plaintiff, nor in the final decree, is there anything said about alimony. This fact, the plaintiff's counsel contended, was strong presumptive evidence that there had been fraud and collusion from the beginning to the end of the transaction, and he asked that, for this reason, the decree be set aside.

Affidavits on the part of the defendant were read and commented on by counsel, who said there was no doubt, from all the testimony, that both plaintiff and defendant were, and had been for several years prior to the decree of divorce in question, anxious for a legal separation. A decree of absolute divorce had been obtained by plaintiff against her husband, on the ground of adultery. In his affidavit, the divorced husband stated that the reason why he did not put in an answer to the complaint of his wife was the fact that he could not conscientiously deny the allegations. But, said his counsel, the domestic relations of the defendant have materially changed since he had notice that a decree was entered against him. In April last, or about six months after the decree, he was married, in the State of New-Jersey, to a woman who was an old acquaintance of his, and who he had just learned was a widow.

By the Court—How could the defendant marry if he was the offending party, if the decree was granted on the ground that he, and not the plaintiff, was the one guilty of adultery?

Defendant's Counsel—He married as a great many others do in New-Jersey, after getting divorced in this State. It is a usual thing.

Plaintiff's Counsel—That is just what we complain of, your Honor. The defendant is in contempt, and has, and can have, no legal standing here until he can purge himself of his contempt of court in marrying a second wife, during the life-time of his first, he having been divorced from the latter for the cause above stated. The statute of this State forbids it; he is in contempt, and has no right or standing here.

Defendant's Counsel—Then if we have no legal standing in court, why are we brought here? We are summoned here at the instance of the plaintiff. [Sensation in court.] But, if your Honor please, the whole question as to the legality of a marriage, and the right of persons to contract it in other States, under the circumstances stated, has been fully discussed and decided in recent cases both in Connecticut and New-Jersey. The case of Singer vs. Singer must be still fresh in Your Honor's recollection. The counsel then proceeded to read the affidavit of the attorney who procured the decree of divorce and others, from which it appeared that so far as the defendant and his counsel were concerned the whole proceedings were commenced and conducted to the end in good faith, and without any collusion whatever. There was also evidence to the effect that the married life of the parties to the suit had been a very unhappy one; that she had frequently said she could not live with him, and that she must in some way get a separation from him; that when a final decree was served, she exclaimed to the defendant, "Thank God all that trouble is over now."

Defendant's counsel, in conclusion, contended that the motion now made to set aside the decree, was for the purpose of obtaining more money from his client, and produced evidence to show that he (defendant) had already voluntarily surrendered to his former wife more than half his estate.

On the other side affidavits were made to show that much less than one-third of the estate had been made over to the plaintiff, and counsel again urged the court, even if it could not consistently set aside the decree, to refer the matter to some suitable person to ascertain the amount of defendant's estate, and the amount already paid over to the plaintiff.

The Court—I never refer a motion. What the court wants are facts to enable it to come to a right conclusion.

Plaintiff's Counsel—Your Honor, references are made every day in this court in cases of this nature.

Court—Well, as to that, I do not know; I am acting for myself.

The Judge, at the conclusion of the argument, took the papers and reserved his decision.

For plaintiff, Mr. Cutler; for defendant, Mr. Vanderpool.

COURT OF GENERAL SESSIONS.

Before Recorder Hoffman.

THE KETCHUM CASE—HE PLEADS GUILTY.

The court-room was very much crowded yesterday morning, several distinguished members of the bar being present.

His Honor having announced that the first case on the calendar was that of EDWARD B. KETCHUM,

District-Attorney HALL said: In that case, Sir, this morning I received the following letter, which I will read, although the writer and counsel is in court:

JUDGE ALLEN'S LETTER.

No. 63 WALL-ST.,
NEW-YORK, Saturday, Oct. 7, 1865.

DEAR SIR: It has been the intention of EDWARD B. KETCHUM, from the first, to plead guilty upon the charges of forgery preferred against him, and he desired to do so when arraigned upon the indictments. He, however, under the advice of counsel, consented to interpose a plea of not guilty, for the reason that his testimony and explanations were important in matters respecting his late firm and creditors. He now proposes to plead guilty, but as the matters referred to are still pending and unfinished, and his explanations and testimony still required by those interested, it is desirable to defer the plea to as late a day in the present term as may be practicable.

We therefore propose on some day which will suit your convenience, and of which you may advise me, to withdraw the plea of not guilty and plead guilty, as suggested in our interview this morning, and will do so on such day as you may please to name.

Very respectfully, your obedient servant,

W. F. ALLEN,
Of Counsel for EDWARD B. KETCHUM.
